Growing Hoofs
The Old Beauty Craze
Useful O. H. Kahn
Youth, Crime, Suicide

BY ARTHUR BRISBANE

LADIES, you do not suspect it, but you are changing your feet to hoofs. The president of the Illinois Chiropodists Association can prove it.

You raise your own heel on a long, narrow, artificial heel, point your foot downward, putting the weight which ought to rest on the flat foot all on the toes.

THE horse once had five toes, but wound up with one hoof for each foot.

What women are doing now may be part of nature's eternal plan, killing off the little toe to begin with and then gradually eliminating the others.

The process certainly is not beautiful.

IN the ancient city of Ur archeologists have found women's vanity cases, used 5,000 years ago. That isn't very far back. You may be sure that, 10,000 years ago, women, and men, too, were smearing red earth on their cheeks, putting fat on their hair, and otherwise beautifying themselves. The process seems ridiculous, but the result is a face much more beautiful than that of 5,000 or 500,000 years ago.

OTTO H. KAHN has rendered a service to New York, to music and the public generally by putting through his plan for a new metropolitan opera house at Fifty-seventh and Eighth-av.

It gives wise investors, by the way, a good opportunity.

The new opera will have 32 parterre boxes, in which large diamonds and shining pearls can be displayed as nowhere else.

You can buy one of those boxes, if the directors will let you, for $145,000. Then you own one-thirty-second part of the whole opera, subject to a mortgage.

You will have your box for Monday, the fashionable night, and can earn a nice return on your money renting it the other nights—if the directors will let you rent it.

They are particular, for there are only 32 boxes in the whole opera house, which means that those sitting there will be an earthly elect.

THE important thing is that Mr. Kahn has arranged for those that like music, as well as for those that wear diamonds. There will be good, comfortable seats, with a perfect view of the stage, as cheap as $1.50 each. Those that will sing on that stage a few years hence will have a chance to hear and see the opera now.

THE crime wave problem is 90 per cent a problem of wayward youth. You read today of a girl of 18 and a boy of 17 asking a storekeeper to change a $20 bill at 7:30 o'clock in the morning and holding the man up with guns after he had opened the safe to get change. The girl kept the storekeeper covered with her gun while the boy took $169 from the safe. Then they left. That is "flaming youth" with a vengeance.

IN addition to holding up others and occasionally killing storekeepers, American youth shows a strange inclination to suicide.

Thomas J. O'Donnell, 18-year-old student in a Long Island high school, killed himself yesterday, saying he did not want to burden his mother.

O'Donnell was the tenth young man to commit suicide within a few weeks. One youthful suicide said he was "disillusioned." Another killed himself to test his theory on immortality.

THE Baldwin Locomotive Co. reveals the interesting fact that its net profits in a year have increased from $976,563 to $5,883,907.

A year ago the common stock earned 50 cents a share. This year it earned $32.92 a share. Wall street bears were recently selling that stock short. Can you imagine how they feel?

KING GEORGE has sent a silver alms dish, through British Ambassador Howard, to the new Protestant Episcopal Cathedral of St. John the Divine, in New York. Last Sunday the royal dish was used for the first time, while 2,000 worshipers adored. It is believed that deep respect for the British king and reverence for his silver dish will greatly increase the prosperity of the cathedral.

Those that ordinarily would put a dollar in the plate will say to themselves, "It is the kings' plate, I must do my best," and put in $10.

NEW WARD PLAN IS ADOPTED BY CITY COUNCIL

Action Taken at Meeting Last Night Ends Controversy Over Redistricting

NEW BOUNDARY LINES

First and Second Wards Not Changed; Four New Ones Are Created

Marion's ward redistricting controversy, in progress since November of last year, came to a definite close last night when City Council adopted a revised boundary alignment for the six wards which will replace the four into which the city is now divided.

As a result of this action, the original redistricting ordinance, adopted on Nov. 8, is amended and new boundary lines are established for wards south of Center-st in place of the ones designated in the first ordinance. These boundaries brought protests from local business men's organizations as well as a large number of citizens and resulted in Council reconsidering the proposal.

Two Object

The ordinance, adopted despite the fact that opposition developed at the last minute and resulted in Councilmen R. E. Prettyman and Charles Schmidt voting against it, will become effective in 30 days. Councilmen representing the two new wards will be elected this fall, increasing Council membership from seven to nine beginning Jan. 1, 1928.

The board of elections will meet soon to prepare for rearranging voting precincts, within the new boundaries. Comparatively few changes will be necessary, however, due to the fact that the ward lines closly follow the present precinct boundaries, A. W. Kette, clerk of the board of elections stated today.

Important Change

One of the most important features of the new ward divisions is elimination of Main-st as the central dividing line south of Center-st. This thoroughfare has been the central line practically ever since wards were established in Marion almost half a century ago.

The present First and Second Wards are unchanged. These lie north of Center-st with the First Ward east of Main-st and the Second including all of the territory west of Main.

The other four wards, all south of Center-st, are as follows:

Third Ward Line

Third: Beginning at the intersection of Center-st and the Pennsylvania railway, thence southeast along the railway to the south corporation line, west and northwest along the corporation line to Kenton-av, southeast on Kenton-av to the point where its center line extended intersects with Cen-

HUNDREDS ARE DEAD IN JUGO-SLAVIA'S QUAKE

Cities and Villages Reduced to Ruins; Earth Opens, Swallows Buildings

Belgrade, Feb. 15—Hundreds were reported dead today as a result of the earthquake which shook all Jugo-Slavia yesterday. Cities and village were reduced to ruins. Wide seams opened in the earth, swallowing whole buildings and crumbling mountain sides buried others beneath tons of earth and rock.

There were 10 different shocks within 20 minutes.

The earth shocks were so violent that Seismographic instruments were wrecked. Details were lacking today because of the destruction of telegraphic connections.

At Serajevo, birthplace of the World War, 10 houses were buried beneath a heavy landslide. The town of Mostar was reduced to ruins. At Metkovic the railway station, postoffice and many other buildings were destroyed.

In the Amselfield region many houses were swallowed up when great chasms opened in the earth.

Congressmen, Churchmen In Fist Fight and Riot Over Sunday Blue Laws

Hearing Broken Up, Along with Overturning of Tables and Chairs; Lord's Day Alliance Secretary Floors Official Reporter with Blow; Texan on Top of Sol Bloom

Washington, Feb. 15—Rioting and fist-fighting, in which members of congress and churchmen swapped blows, women screamed, and tables and chairs were overturned, broke up a congressional hearing today on a bill which would establish Sunday blue laws in the District of Columbia.

Representative Thomas L. Blanton, Democrat of Texas, and Representative Sol Bloom, Democrat of New York, had a personal encounter which wound up with Bloom lying across the table with the Texan on top of him.

While this was going on, the official reporter went to the floor under the impact of the fist of Harvey L. Bowlby, secretary of the Lord's Day Alliance.

Blanton also knocked down L. B. Schloss, proprietor of an amusement park, who attempted to pull him off Bloom.

Woman Prays Aloud

There were almost a thousand people in the committee room when the melee started, and there were several side fights among the spectators. The identities of the combatants were lost in the confusion of screaming women and general panic.

One woman in the rear of the room mounted a chair and began praying in a loud voice.

The difficulty arose during the examination of Rev. H. M. Lawson, pastor of the Maryland Avenue Baptist Church. He was heckled by the audience and by members of the committee. Bloom protested that the witness was not being given a fair deal, and Blanton resented it.

Blanton charged Bloom, an opponent of the bill, with representing "the moving picture people."

"That is absolutely untrue," said Bloom.

Blanton started for him, and Bloom held up a warning hand.

And Row Starts

"Wait till I get my glasses off," he shouted. But the irate Texan didn't wait. He flung himself on the New Yorker and down they went on the table. Schloss then jumped into the melee and tried to pull Blanton off, and got a sock in the jaw for his pains.

Schloss also said later Blanton kicked him.

The reporter who was taking the hearing then tried to pry Blanton off and Bowlby swung on him. The stenographic notes were torn and trampled underfoot.

A number of spectators then formed a flying wedge and pried the combatants loose. A semblance of order was restored.

When the fighting commenced Miss Hattie Pitts, of Washington, raised her hand and shouted, "Lord Jesus, save them."

When the melee was over she remarked, "You noticed the fighting stopped when I called upon the Lord."

COYNER, NEGRO, ADMITS HE LIVED IN TOLEDO

Refuses To Talk, However, About Discovery of Skulls in His Trunk

Michigan City, Ind., Feb. 15—James H. Coyner, negro, held in Indiana State Penitentiary on a grate robbing sentence, today admitted he had lived in Toledo, O., at the time of the hammer murders.

Beyond the admission of having lived in Toledo Coyner maintained the indifferent attitude which characterized his talks with Ferndale, Mich., authorities relative to the discovery in his trunk of four skulls.

Authorities decided today to bring the skulls to the penitentiary in an effort to force him to confess.

REV. ALLEN'S CONDITION REMAINS UNCHANGED

START DRIVE TO COLLECT BACK ASSESSMENTS

County and City Officials Launch Plans To Force Delinquent Payments

$44,799.83 OUTSTANDING

Agitation Follows Announcement of $40,000 Deficit in City's Sinking Fund

County and city officials launched plans today for forcing collection of the thousands of dollars of special assessment delinquencies which have accumulated on Marion's tax books during the last 15 years.

Today the proposed proceedings were discussed in a conference between County Treasurer James E. Messenger and Prosecuting Attorney Frank Wiedemann after the treasurer had compiled a tabulated statement showing that the delinquencies now total $44,799.83 and that they include assessments levied in connection with 130 different street improvements, some of which date back as far as 1912.

Agitation for forced collection of these delinquencies has been increasing since City Treasurer Asa Queen recently announced that the overdue assessments had resulted in serious complications for the city of Marion in making its annual debt payments. This year, the treasurer has disclosed, revenue for the city's sinking fund, from which bonds and interest are paid, will fall $40,000 short of enough to pay debts maturing this year.

Steps Taken

Initial steps preparatory to taking action in connection with the delinquencies developed last night at City Council meeting, when County Treasurer Messenger announced that he had completed a tabulation of the overdue accounts and was prepared to cooperate with city officials in forcing collection.

Delinquent assessments standing against property now in the name of the state amount to $3,515.42 and $13,005.24 is against property which has been certified to the state and will be taken from the owners unless taxes are paid. Assessments held up by injunction suits amount to $2,774.2). Deducting these amounts from the total delinquencies, listed at $44,799.83, leaves $25,504.99 representing the items which will be the basis of the forthcoming collection proceedings.

Some of this will prove uncollectible, officials predict. The larger part of the total can and should be paid, however, and it is believed that the money will be received as the result of the proceedings about to be inaugurated.

The total of overdue accounts will be considerably increased at the close of the current collection and will continue to grow if collection proceedings are not started, officials say.

PENNSYLVANIA OPERATORS WANT LOWER WAGE SCALE

Joint Conference of Bituminous Coal Groups Hits Serious Snag

Miama, Fla., Feb. 15—Negotiations of the joint wage conference between the bituminous coal miners and operators struck a serious snag today when the Pennsylvania coal owners formally demanded a reduction in wages in order to meet competition from the non-union fields.

Through H. E. Baker, Pittsburgh operators, the Pennsylvania group said further negotiations would be futile unless the miners agreed to accept a competitive wage below the $7.50 a day scale now in effect.

John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, replied that his organization would never accept a wage reduction.

Both sides declare the conference will be heading homeward shortly without the semblance of a new wage scale unless the present seemingly irreconcilable differences are swept away by some unexpected concessions or deals. Neither group apparently is yet in mood to yield. The actual break, however, may not come before the end of this week or the first of next.

FOUR KILLED AND FOUR OVERCOME BY GAS FUMES

Three Children Revived by Neighbors Who Break Into Apartment House

New York, Feb. 15—Two men and two women were killed and four persons were overcome today by coal gas escaping in an apartment house in Brooklyn.

Two of the victims were married recently and were found in each other's arms. They apparently were overcome while the husband was attempting to carry his bride from their gas filled apartment.

Of those overcome, three were children. They were revived by neighbors who entered the apartments through windows when they failed to receive responses to their knocks and found the doors were locked.

The dead: Abraham Pollock, 30; Mildred Pollock, his wife, 20; Mrs. Rose Pollock, 25, sister-in-law of Abraham, and Solomon Pollock, 30, brother of Abraham.

When neighbors broke into the Pollock apartment they found Mildred and Abraham Pollock on the floor collapsed in each other's arms. The mother was held for questioning and the owner of the apartment house was also summoned.

BODIES FOUND WHEN HUSBAND RETURNS HOME

Door of Home Near Conneaut, Ohio, Found Open and Radio Grinding Out Tune

BASEBALL BAT WEAPON

Wife in Sleeping Porch While Child Found in Cellar; Robbery Not Motive

Conneaut, O., Feb. 15—Beaten almost to a pulp, the bodies of Mrs. Celia Brown, 27, and her son, Frederick Brown, Jr., 5, were found today in the Brown bungalow, three miles west of here. A baseball bat with which the double murder was committed was found by police.

According to Fred Brown the husband and father, who called Conneaut officials shortly after midnight this morning, returned from his work as caller at the Nickel Plate engine house shortly after midnight. He found, he said, that the door of his house was open, and the radio was grinding out a tune.

In the sleeping porch the body of Mrs. Brown was lying. In the basement that of his son. Nearby was the bloody baseball bat. Both bodies still were warm, he said.

Conduct Autopsy

Sheriff Frank Sheldon, County Detective Hannum and Coroner William Webster arrived at the house within a few hours. An autopsy was being conducted this morning to determine whether or not the woman had been attacked. That robbery was not the motive was made evident when it was found that a small sum of money in the house had not been touched.

Every part of the house bore evidences of a terrific struggle, made by the woman and child to save their lives. A trail of blood reached from room to room, and authorities hoped to find finger prints which would lead to establishing the identity of the slayer.

A suspect was arrested by authorities this morning, but after brief questioning he was released.

Brown was in a state of near collapse when authorities arrived.

A police guard has been placed around the home.

SEND TO ERIE, PA. FOR BLOODHOUNDS

Erie, Pa., Feb. 15—Authorities came upon clews today which they believe may ultimately lead to apprehension of the murderer who slew Mrs. Fred Brown and her 5-year-old son, Fred, Jr., in their home at Conneaut, O., near here.

In the woman's tightly clenched hand were found bits of flesh and also strands of gray hair which she evidently tore from her slayer before he beat her to death with a baseball bat.

With this discovery, Conneaut officials sent to Erie for bloodhounds to trail the murderer.

FIVE POWER CONFERENCE PRACTICABLE, COOLIDGE

Plan Stands Alone with Possibilities of Disarmament in President's Opinion

Washington, Feb. 15—A five-power naval conference, such as has been proposed to Great Britain, France, Italy and Japan, represents the only practicable means of accomplishing anything concrete in the way of further naval disarmament, in President Coolidge's opinion.

This statement was made officially at the White House today following receipt of advices that France has decided to decline President Coolidge's invitation to such a conference. It was suggested that Mr. Coolidge was disappointed at the French decision, and that he expects but little from other nations at Geneva under the auspices of the League of Nations.

The lawyer will reassemble in Geneva next month, under the auspices of the League of Nations, to talk about it. They talked about it for six months last year without reaching any conclusions, and there is little expectation here that a renewed discussion will get any further.

Disarmament, the president has been told by the Geneva delegates, is a matter which must be settled by the governments themselves, and not by any conference. The only practicable means of accomplishing anything concrete in the way of further naval disarmament, in President Coolidge's opinion.

Veteran Railroader Tries to Solve Farm Problems

Removal of Middleman and Speculator Recommended as Aid to Agriculture

BY CHARLES P. STEWART

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15—B. F. Yoakum, the railroad man, has been one of the most picturesque figures Washington has seen during the fight over farm relief legislation. For years he was the chief executive of various western railroads.

BENJAMIN YOAKUM

"B. F." views the farm problem with all the intensity of a railroader whose lines are dependent on an agricultural country for the bulk of their traffic, who realizes that said lines can't prosper unless the country they serve is prosperous, and who certainly wants to see his roads making money.

Hence, as a railroad man, he's about the most enthusiastic rooter for the farmer's interests of any individual who frequently visits the capital.

"B. F." is a farm co-operation plugger.

He can't see any equalization measure for the farmer as anything but a stimulant, which, if it gives a false sense of exaltation to agriculture for awhile, is sure to end in delirium tremens.

The agricultural invalid, he says, wants, not dope, but an operation.

He recommends the removal of the middleman and the speculator.

"B. F." may be right or wrong as to his diagnosis, but there's no doubt about its sincerity. He honestly wants agriculture to be healthy, in order to have it as a good, active customer for his railroads.

THE agricultural co-operative operation has been performed on a small—that is to say, a statewide—scale, with excellent results, "B. F." points out.

But how, he asks, can an intrastate operation be expected to give more than purely local relief to an interstate patient, suffering from an interstate malady?

What "B. F." wants is national agricultural co-operation, and he says an operation of federal proportions is required to make it possible.

IN simplest language B. F. Yoakum wants to cut everybody out of agriculture but producer, consumer, and transportation agent, between them.

But unless the government provides the liaison, he doesn't believe it's possible. Otherwise it's to the interest of too many brokers to chip in and reap a profit out of the transaction.

That's why he demands federal legislation.

"B. F." is about the only survival of the original railroad builders, on a large scale, in the country.

The southwest was his field, and he started with a construction crew.

He shoveled dirt and laid ties on the lines he subsequently was president of. He never was a swivel chair railroader.

He's a tall, big boned old man, with the face of a fighter.

"B. F." created states like Texas. He found the raw material and developed it, with a pick and shovel and at the end of a six-gun.

He has his adverse critics, who say times have changed and that he no longer knows, from his offices in New York, what the new west requires.

All the same, he had a large share in building it. He had a distinct idea how he expected it to turn out and if it doesn't measure up to his anticipations, he's decidedly emphatic in saying so.

Time and Thought for Improvement

The value of science and research in industry is strikingly illustrated in the review of Swift & Company's business for 1926.

Things don't "just happen." There is reason and thought behind each move.

Housewives are turning to lighter beef because of certain definite developments in American life;

Premium Ham and Bacon taste the same in New York as in San Francisco because science has made that possible;

Variations in texture and moisture, and in proportions of fat and lean have been overcome by uniform standards of manufacture.

Science and research play an important part in solving the problems that rise daily. Just how these problems are worked out, together with many more interesting facts about the business, is set forth in the Swift & Company 1927 Year Book.

Some Frank Words on Catarrh

Because catarrh is unpleasant, few like to discuss it. Yet all know its prevalence. Many think "It will go away of itself," and ignore it until finally a chronic catarrhal condition exists.

To endure the constant raising of mucus, the clogged nasal passages, the offensive breath of catarrh is today inexcusable. Thousands have proved that Hall's Catarrh Medicine drives away catarrh because it tones and strengthens the mucous membranes.

When the inflammation of those delicate linings of nose, throat and head is reduced, catarrh vanishes. You owe it to yourself to get Hall's Catarrh Medicine today. Ask your druggist. Price 85c. F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio.

BUILDING PLAN OFFERED BY COLUMBUS COUNCIL

Suggests State Erect Structure Along Scioto River; 700-Foot Site Seen

Columbus, Feb. 15—Ohio legislators may had under consideration a proposal, made by the Columbus City Council and various other officials and residents, that the state build its proposed $8,000,000 state office building as one of the units in the new Scioto River civic center project here.

It is proposed that the state appropriate $500,000 for the purchase of a number of lots and that the city make gift to the state of land lying between these lots and the east bank of the Scioto River. This would provide a site more than 700 feet long.

Cost of other proposed sites for the new state office building, it is claimed, range from $2,000,000 to $5,000,000.

A bill now is pending in the legislature providing for purchase of land in S. Third-st, opposite the State House campus, as a site for the proposed state office building.

BILL WOULD BAN CIGARET ADS TO CHILDREN

Measure Introduced in Ohio House by Beck; Single Ballot Urged by Woehrle

Columbus, Feb. 15—A bill forbidding advertisements of cigarets where children under 21 years of age will see them, and prohibiting persons from giving cigarets to minors for advertising purposes is pending in the Ohio House of Representatives today.

It was introduced by Rep. J. W. Beck, Montgomery County, in the title of the measure is the declaration that it is designed to "protect the childhood of the state."

The bill defines "advertising" as including "the showing of words, or pictures, on billboards or on any other outdoor display, or any other place where persons under 21 years of age may see such words, or pictures, as well as the furnishing, or giving away, of cigarets to persons under 21 for advertising purposes."

Violators of the proposed act would be liable to fines ranging from $100 to $5,000 and imprisonment in the county jail from one to six months.

Seeks Single Ballot

Rep. Jacob Woehrle, Columbus, Democrat, is author of a bill providing for a single ballot at primary elections for the purpose of preventing voters from being compelled to disclose their party affiliations. All party tickets would be on one ballot. The ballot of any voter who voted for candidates on more than one ticket would be void.

A bill by Rep. Ray C. Carpentier, Seneca County, would abolish the office of village treasurer and assign the duties of that office to the village clerk.

Rep. B. P. Vandament, Clermont County, offered a bill providing for state highway patrolmen, under direction of the director of highways, to supervise repair and to police designated sections of the highways.

Provision that Ohio history must be taught in the seventh or eighth grades in the public schools is contained in a bill by Rep. H. B. Hume, Noble County.

Recodification of present laws relating to certification of school teachers is sought in a bill introduced by Rep. L. P. Mooney, Hocking County. Rep. Grant P. Ward, Franklin County, offered a bill increasing salaries of board of elections members and clerks in cities having more than 200,000 population.

Other Bills Introduced

Fines up to $500 and 60-day jail sentences are provided in a bill by Rep. J. S. McKinley, Franklin County, for persons who enter premises for the purpose of stealing grain, fruits, vegetables, cereals, seeds, hay, wool, chickens or livestock.

Rep. W. H. Van Fossen, Columbiana County, introduced a bill authorizing county boards of education to hold teachers' institutes on Saturdays during the school term.

Bills by Rep. B. L. Creeys, Ashtabula County, provide that foreclosure proceedings against land for delinquent taxes, ordered by the state auditor, may be omitted if the property will not bring sufficient money, when sold, to pay court costs, and that trucks or motor buses shall not follow within 100 feet another such vehicle on the public highways. These vehicles must be 300 feet apart, at least, if trailers are attached.

The senate today will be asked to approve the action of the house which passed 107 to 2, the Marshall bill providing that salaries of county officers and employes be paid semi-monthly instead of monthly.

SPEED IS URGED

Monger Says Enactment of Sanitary Sewer District Bill Needed

Columbus, Feb. 15—Health Director John E. Monger today urged that the house here speed up passage, as an emergency measure, the Collister Bill, which already has passed the senate, providing for establishment of sanitary sewer districts.

Monger declared enactment of this bill is essential in order that work may proceed in connection with sanitary relief work throughout the state, estimated to cost about $55,000,000.

So Clean Inside, No Fear of Perspiration Offense, However Over-Heated

Once a person realizes the wonderful properties in cascara, no other laxative in the market would ever be considered.

It's no trick to "clean out the bowels". Dozens of things will do that. But a little natural cascara purifies the system clear through. Cleanses even the pores of your skin. Renders perspiration as inoffensive as so much dew! The old-fashioned way was "salts." They get action, but they take the mucous membrane along with the waste matter! Mineral oils are gentler, but they leave the bowels with a film of poisons for the blood to carry off through the pores. But when you cascarize the system, you get rid of all poisons by normal muscular action of the bowels.

If you have the habit of taking medicine for constipation, or even for auto-intoxication, stop it. For a candy cascaret is a delightful form in which to take cascara; children love them, and the taste tempts most grown-ups to have "more."

And what a comfort to know you are in that clean, wholesome condition that goes away with any need of deodorants, even in warmest weather! Try a cascaret tonight—see how you feel next day, and for days after! With the skin fresh and fragrant. All druggists, 10c and 25c.—Adv.

"ANYTHING that gets results, was all the thought I ever gave to laxatives. In those days my perspiration was so acid, it used to rot my clothes. Then a doctor tipped me off to those wonderful little sweeteners—

TERRORISTS' CASE BEFORE CINCINNATI GRAND JURY

Brothers' Confession To Connection in Murder in Officials Hands

Cincinnati, Feb. 13—The cases of the three Anglian brothers and a "Pal," Cecil Bennett, connected by their own confessions, with a gang of "highway" terrorists who murdered Mrs. Sherlie Glardon, a boarding housekeeper, here on the night of Jan. 5, were to be considered by a county grand jury here today.

The brothers, John, 26, George, 23, and William, 16, have admitted to Deputy Sheriff A. J. Beckman that they were present at the robbery which led to the fatal shooting.

Early today John Anglian was declared by county officers to have confessed that he fired the fatal shot.

The brothers' father, Frank Anglian, 52, has been arrested on a charge of receiving stolen goods, as has another member of the family.

A score of victims of recent robberies, including one kidnapping case, and another shooting affair, have identified the three brothers, Cecil Bennett and Gordon Lawrence, 22, as members of the gang actuating the deeds.

Best Way to Loosen Stubborn Cough

This home-made remedy is a wonder for quick results. Easily and cheaply made.

Here is a home-made syrup which millions of people have found to be the most dependable means of breaking up stubborn coughs. It is cheap and simple, but very prompt in action. Under its healing, soothing influence, chest soreness goes, phlegm loosens, breathing becomes easier, tickling in throat stops and you get a good night's restful sleep. The usual throat and chest colds are conquered by it in 24 hours or less. Nothing better for bronchitis, hoarseness, throat tickle, bronchial asthma or winter coughs.

To make this splendid cough syrup, pour 2½ ounces of Pinex into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup and shake thoroughly. If you prefer, use clarified honey, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, you get a full pint—a family supply—of much better cough syrup than you could buy ready-made for three times the money. Keeps perfectly and children love it.

Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract and palatable guaiacol, known the world over for its prompt healing effect upon the membranes.

To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with directions. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co, Ft. Wayne, Ind.

FOR Acid Stomach

PHILLIPS' Milk of Magnesia

Instead of soda hereafter take a little "Phillips Milk of Magnesia" in water any time for indigestion or sour, acid, gassy stomach, and relief will come instantly.

BETTER THAN SODA

For fifty years genuine "Phillips Milk of Magnesia" has been prescribed by physicians because it overcomes three times as much acid in the stomach as a saturated solution of bicarbonate of soda, leaving the stomach sweet and free from all gases. Besides, it neutralizes acid fermentations in the bowels and gently urges this souring waste from the system without purging. It is far more pleasant to take than soda.

TRY A 25c BOTTLE

Insist upon "Phillips." Twenty-five cent and fifty cent bottles, any drug-store. "Milk of Magnesia" has been the U. S. Registered Trade Mark of The Charles Phillips Chemical Company and its predecessor Charles H. Phillips since 1875.—Adv.

OUNCIL QUIET N REGARD TO AR SCHEDULES

Report Given on Matter Sponsored by Residents of Southwest Marion

Residents of the southwest section Marion who recently filed a petition Council asking for better street service, failed to get a report on matter at last night's Council eting.

Their petition, alleging that street lway service in their section of the ty is crippled as the result of inter-ban cars interfering with city car hedules, was presented to Council veral weeks ago with approximately signatures attached.

Moloney Out of City

W. P. Moloney, attorney for the C., & M. Electric Co., had announced at he would attend last night's meet-g to make a statement for the mpany in connection with this com-int and also in regard to proposed ack repairs on N. State-st and Da-vids-st, had been called out of the city and was unable to be present.

City Solicitor Geran reported, however, that he had conferred with Mr. Moloney and had been assured that the C., D. & M. plans to make the Davids and State-st repairs as soon as weather permits.

Geran said, however, that Mr. Moloney maintained that petitioners for improved service in the southwest section of the city had comparatively little cause for complaint. He claims that the C., D. & M. operates city cars in that locality on a 10-minute schedule, whereas the franchise calls for only 20-minute service.

Stoll Speaks

Charles Stoll, spokesman for the petitioners, was at the meeting last night and said that frequently residents of southwest Marion find that it takes from 20 to 55 minutes to go to the uptown business district on city cars.

"You can often go to Prospect on an interurban car in less time than it takes a city car to run from Bellefontaine-av to the court-house," Mr. Stoll asserted.

The petitioners assert that disruption of the city car schedule results generally from interurban cars being given the right-of-way. C., D. & M. officials say, however, that delays are frequently caused by city cars being held up at railway crossings.

Mr. Moloney, it was stated last night, will probably attend the next Council meeting to make a statement for the C., D. & M.

DONOVAN FUNERAL HELD FROM HOME YESTERDAY

Funeral services for James J. Donovan, 42, who died Friday of apoplexy, were held yesterday at the home, 252 Lookout-av, Akron. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Starling Donovan, formerly Miss Starling Alexander, of this city.

Mr. Donovan was employed as a sales representative with the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Co., and was well known to dealers in Marion and vicinity.

Mystery Swept Away With Janitor's Broom; Hole Found

A BROOMSTICK, wielded by Sherman Dixon, courthouse custodian, swept aside the mystery of the "lost hole" of E. Center-st yesterday, and today all is again serene around the courthouse.

Unable to believe that a hole could disappear and not leave some trace behind it, Dixon yesterday noon took a broom, and by using first the brush and then the handle, discovered the hole, right where it was supposed to be all the time.

The solution of this mystery, which started when Dixon and John Haines placed the flags along E. Center-st in honor of Lincoln's birthday Saturday, was ridiculously easy, once Dixon got after the mystery with the broom.

By first brushing and then prodding, Dixon removed the veil of mud from the top of the hole, and there it was hiding. The attempt to conceals itself on the part of the hole was aided by numerous bruises which the sidewalk suffered when the hole was put in, and when gradually filled up with mud, completely covering the surrouding area. It took more than a casual glance to locate the place where the hole was supposed to be.

With the hole safely with the county domain again, the county can now wear out all its flags evenly, as with one hole missing the county could use only three of the four flags which belong on the E. Center-st side of the courthouse.

DRUGGIST TELLS OF TALK WITH ACCUSED MAN

Says Rudner Offered To Have Alleged Enemy "Beaten Up" for Him

Canton, Feb. 15—Stanley Baltzly, Massillon druggist, today told the jury trying Ben Rudner as the "put-off" man in the murder of Don R. Mellett, vice-crusading editor, last July, that Rudner suggested to him last summer that he had a man with whom he had had trouble "beaten up."

Baltzly was recalled to the stand today because he said yesterday that he "knew a lot more."

Rudner told him that if he did not want to beat up this man himself, Baltzly testified, that he (Rudner) would furnish a couple of men to do it.

Later, Baltzly continued, Rudner came to his store, saying: "My friends are here now. Point out that fellow and I'll have them put the works on him, if you still want him beaten up."

Says Offer Declined

Baltzly declared that the offer was declined.

Max Stroub, a Canton photographer, presented photographs of the telegram received by Pat McDermott, convicted "trigger man," on the morning following the Mellett murder. He also presented photographs of Rudner's handwriting. Both were offered in evidence by the state.

Dr. Henry Jenkins, handwriting expert, testified that this telegram, which read: "Take Massillon store at once or report to home office at once," was written by Rudner.

When court adjourned for the noon recess Dr. Jenkins was still on the stand. It was learned that the defense had its own handwriting expert who would testify that Rudner could not have written the telegram in question.

Present indications were that the case would go over to next week. Defense attorneys said that it would take at least three days for them to present their testimony. Meanwhile they were keeping their list of witnesses closely guarded.

Thus far the state has sought to prove the following points in the Rudner trial.

1.—That Rudner conferred with McDermott a week before the murder and made arrangements to "slug an editor."

2.—That Rudner sent a code telegram to McDermott in Canton the morning after the murder.

3.—That McDermott boasted he had "awful pull" with Canton authorities and that this protection was promised him by Rudner, who was said to be close to former Chief of Police E. A. Engel and others in the Canton Police Department.

GREATNESS OF LINCOLN SHOWN BY H. E. HILL

Marion County Legislator Gives Address Before Dayton Noontide Club

Historical facts, carefully traced, fail to reveal any single man greater than Abraham Lincoln, was the view expressed by H. E. Hill, Marion County representative in the state legislature, in an address at the annual Lincoln Day banquet of the Noontide Club at Dayton, Saturday night.

A Dayton newspaper, received here today, gives an extensive account of the banquet, which is one of the outstanding annual events of the Noontide Club's program. The Noontide club is made up of members of the Eastern Star order and Masonic bodies.

A company of about 400 attended the banquet, held in the Dayton Masonic Temple.

Taking as his subject "Influence of Lincoln on Succeeding Generations," Mr. Hill compared the Civil War president with John Wesley and John Knox, great churchmen, Daniel Webster and the great Irish liberal, Charles Stewart Parnell. The speaker admitted that all were great men but thought Lincoln deserved to be given even higher place in the thoughts of men than any of these four.

WAITING ROOM ON DAVIDS-ST STILL IN DEBATE

City Council Agrees To Repair Station in Oakland Heights

The stucco building which has stood at the intersection of Davids-st and Bellefontaine-av for about 10 years, serving as a waiting station and shelter house for street car patrons, continues to be a subject of discussion at City Council meetings.

About two months ago council decided to have the building removed after a petition had been received from a number of residents of the Oakland Heights section and later this action was rescinded when another petition, bearing a larger number of signatures, asked that the structure be allowed to stand.

Orders Repairs

Last night council was informed that the building is becoming unsightly and is in need of repair and after considerable discussion it was decided to have the repairs made. The city will keep the building equipped with electric light bulbs and the C., D. & M. Co. will furnish electricity without charge.

Captain of Police Moody told council that the station is not only valuable for street car patrons but as a police call booth.

Council also adopted considerable legislation in connection with proposed street improvements. The most important was an ordinance to proceed with the paving of Wildwood-ct from Prospect-st to its eastern terminus. The street, a short thoroughfare, will be surfaced with asphalt or brick, the foundation already being in place. All but two per cent of the cost is to be paid by the property owners.

Pass Resolutions

Resolutions were adopted for construction of sidewalks on the west side of Barks-av from Sheridan-rd to Bellefontaine-av, south side of Sheridan-rd from Barks-av west to the east terminus of the present walk, north side of Bellefontaine-av and east side of Chatfield-rd from Barks-av to Maynard-av, both sides of Maynard-av from Chatfield-rd to Sheridan-rd and north side of Glendale-av from Bellefontaine-av to lot 12747. All of these streets are in Oakland Heights.

A petition for a sanitary and storm water sewer on Osgood st from Cheney-av to Prospect-st was referred to the city solicitor for preparation of legislation necessary for making the improvement.

A petition for a sidewalk on Buckeye-st from Davids-st to the first alley east of Davids was referred to the street and alley committee.

A resolution was adopted directing the C., D. & M. to install a street light at the west end of Thew-av.

Announcement was made today of the birth of a son, Sunday to Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Osborn, 749 Wilson-av.

"Saving Is the Difference Between Success and Failure."

President Coolidge has said that "Every one knows that it is not what is earned but what is saved which measures the difference between success and failure."

Buying inferior goods because they are cheap is not thrift. It is wasteful because the service is correspondingly short.

The way to decide "where savings are greatest" is first to look into the ability of the store to buy right; then the reputation of the store for selling right.

The buying power of this Store is tremendously increased because of the co-operative buying for all the Stores of this Nation-wide Organization. This advantage is your advantage each time you buy from us. And paying cash you enjoy an added saving.

A Distinct Civic Asset.

We believe it must have been pleasing news to the railroad workers of Marion and to a large circle of the people of Marion generally to learn that Harry R. Adams will retain his position as superintendent of the Kent division under the reorganization of the Erie lines.

Not all Superintendent Adams' local friends and acquaintances have personal knowledge of his ability as a railroad man, but those who have speak of him as one who knows the business thoroughly, as one who through experience has practical knowledge of the many problems which confront him as superintendent, and is possessed of the executive ability to handle them ably, an estimate which is borne out by the place he holds in the reorganization.

But while the general public may have only secondary knowledge regarding Mr. Adams as a railroad superintendent, all who know him personally recognize his standing as a man and a citizen. A railroad education is not necessary to know that. It is impressed upon all who know him by his personality. We have had quite a number of railroad superintendents in this city, but, without any disparagement to any of them as railroad men, we can not recall any who took the interest manifested by Superintendent Adams in civic affairs without in the least detracting from his effectiveness as a railroad official.

It is a distinct asset to any city to have straightforward, high-minded men of the caliber of Superintendent Adams enrolled in its citizenship.

"The Crimeless City."

In the old pre-Volstead days, Milwaukee was famous for her beer. Today she is famous for her comparative freedom from crime. Today Milwaukee is known far and wide as the "Crimeless City." Of course, no city of any consequence as a population center is entirely free from crime. There never has been such a city; there doubtless never will be. But her crime record is so much lower than that of any other large city in the land and so steadily is growing still lower, while those of other large cities are rising, that Milwaukee today stands out preeminent in this respect among American cities. The claim is made that her crime record is the lowest in the world, population considered, but this may be a bit strong.

A writer says of her: "It is as safe for women and children to traverse the streets of Milwaukee as it is of any small village. 'Gangs' have vanished. During 1925 every other large city in the United States experienced an increase in burglary insurance rates of twenty to 100 per cent. Milwaukee received a reduction of twenty per cent. 'No other city enjoys such a low rate of automobile theft insurance. And while the country is said to be in the surge of a 'crime wave,' Milwaukee is steadily reducing its record of crime and lawlessness."

What is the explanation of the situation?

The answer is easy. The terror of the law has been thrown into the criminal world by the city. The police and the courts have been divorced from politics and are working as one. The sob-sister stuff is not tolerated and justice is swift and stern. The bulk of such crimes as are yet committed in the city is by the amateur element. The professional criminals, as a class, are giving Milwaukee a wide berth, for they know that the police are vigilant and there will be none of the customary delays of the law in the courts. Arrest and conviction bring punishment swift and sure. How swift may be gleaned from several illustrations offered by Daniel W. Hoan, the writer herein previously quoted, in this week's Dearborn Independent. The four illustrations cited, taken at random from the police records of Milwaukee, are:

"On September 30, 1925, Roy Little, Paul Hurtt and Lawrence Walsh, professional criminals, arrived in Milwaukee. At about 7 o'clock in the evening they held up a jewelry store, slugged the proprietor and escaped with a big haul. Fifteen minutes later they were arrested by a Milwaukee detective. Next morning they were sentenced in the municipal court to a minimum of twenty years' imprisonment. By night they were in the penitentiary.

"Stanley Lubinsky, with aliases, arrived on March 13, 1926. He committed eight hold-ups. The same night he was arrested. On the morning of March 15 he was sentenced for three to thirty years. The delay of one day was due to the intervention of Sunday. Lubinsky had been sought by police of Detroit and elsewhere.

"William Knight, John Valaitas, Clarence Fitz and John Malloy held up a pawnshop in Milwaukee on April 1, 1926. They were arrested the same day. By the following night they were residents of the state penitentiary on three-to-thirty-year sentences. All the stolen goods were recovered.

"John Steinert committed a murder on December 17, 1925. Two days later he was convicted, and because of the nature of the crime was given a sentence of life and twenty years, by which it was assured that he never could be pardoned."

Chief J. G. Laubenheimer of the Milwaukee police department places the suppression of crime squarely up to his department. When the courts give the police cooperation and they have the backing of the community, he says, the police are responsible for the abatement of crime.

"Any effective plan to abate crime," Chief Laubenheimer says, "must start with cleanness in municipal affairs. Winking at any form of lawbreaking to gain votes, campaign funds or graft will inevitably lead to corruption of police officials and brazen activities by the criminal element. * * * In the police department it is made more profitable for an officer to be honest and efficient than dishonest and inefficient. These methods have almost eliminated the crimes of those who expected immunity, and the crimes of transient criminals who expected to escape through police inefficiency. Between the police department and the courts there is also the greatest co-operation."

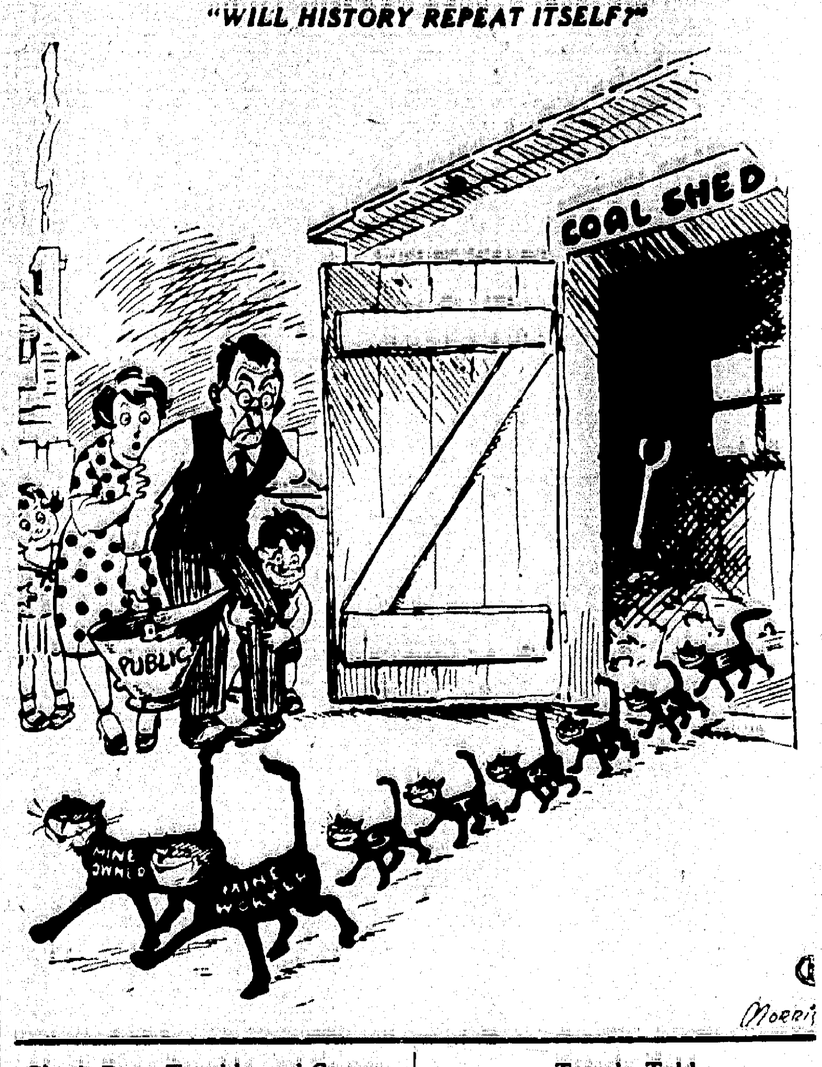
There have been oceans of talk and thousands of columns in print about crime and how to suppress it. Milwaukee has not been content to talk, but has acted and demonstrated that crime can be suppressed. It has accomplished this result through perfect cooperation between the police department and the courts; through relentless activity upon the part of both and ideal support of the former by the latter. When other cities of the land follow the same plan crime will be reduced to the minimum, and not till then. With honest and efficient police departments and honest courts the flood of crime which is a matter of reproach to almost the entire land will speedily be dissipated, but this will never come so long as there is police or court toleration of lawbreaking and a working understanding between criminals and the officers of the law.

Any way one may look at it, the conclusion that our present era of crime is the result of corruption in office is almost inevitable.

An exchange, holding that great minds run in the same dry channel, points out that Lord Astor is of much the same opinion as Mr. McAdoo regarding prohibition. Hardly good dry stuff, it strikes us, to cite a champion of dryness who remains in a wet land to become a citizen of which he forswore allegiance to the United States.

We are unable to say what the outcome of his selection as the Will Hays of the stage might be, but if Alexander Moore made as great a success in that capacity as he did as ambassador to Spain his engagement would well be worth to the stage many times the cost of his engagement. It is said that Spain alone of all Europe is friendly to the United States—a reflex of his splendid services there as our ambassador.

"WILL HISTORY REPEAT ITSELF?"



Check Bone Trouble and Causes.

BY ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.

An editor of one of the Canadian papers publishing these articles has asked me for one on disease of the antrum. Of course, I am only too glad to furnish it.

The cheek bone, as it is commonly called, is not solid, like some of the long bones, but is hollow instead. The cavity opens into the nasal space. The thin mucous membrane lining the nose passes through the passageway into this space and spreads out over its inner surface, just as paper covers the wall of a room.

The cavity in the cheek, which I have just described, is called the "antrum," or sometimes the "maxillary antrum."

The antrum is one of several similar cavities opening into the nose. All such spaces are called "nasal sinuses," or "nasal accessory sinuses."

One of these lies in the hollow bone under the inner end of the eyebrow. This is the frontal sinus. There are two of these particular sinuses, just as there are two antrums, or two antra, as the doctors would say.

The remaining cavities are known as the "sphenoidal sinuses." They are deep-seated cavities, lying deeply embedded in the bones behind the nose.

In spite of the fact that I want to tell you particularly about disease of the antrum, I have mentioned all the other sinuses, because each of them is liable to have exactly the same forms of disease. They are all hollow spaces, lined with mucous membrane and opening into nasal cavities. The same conditions which affect one may attack another, or all the others at the same time.

Given a hard cold, with much inflammation and swelling of the nasal tissues, you have the beginning of what may become some form of "nasal simulitis," as inflammation of these parts is called. If it attacks one antrum alone we may have an infected antrum as a result.

The swelling of the tissue may be sufficient to close completely the narrow passageway from the nose into the antrum. The fluids dam up within the cavity, a few pus germs slip in and begin to multiply. Pretty soon the cavity is filled with thick, nasty pus.

As the pus increases the pressure becomes greater and greater. The pain becomes excessive. It feels as if somebody had his feet on your back upper tooth and was pressing it into the bone.

If drainage can not be established by the use of alkaline sprays or local applications of soothing agents it may be necessary to operate. The cavity is opened through the nasal wall, or it may be reached through the bone, inside the mouth, and above the teeth.

Before pus forms cold applications or ice packs may control the inflammation and keep the pus from developing. Of course, you must call your doctor and have him care for your needs as they progress.

ANSWERS TO HEALTH QUERIES

R. R. Q—What would you advise for a weak knee and a stiff arm at the elbow?

A—This condition is probably due to arthritis, caused by some infection in the system. The teeth, tonsils, sinuses, glands, intestines and kidneys are all possible points of infection when looking for the cause. For other particulars send a self-addressed, stamped envelope and repeat your question.—Copyright, 1927.

Vagrant Verse.

PRAIRIE SUNSET.

Rain whipped; the sullen furrows darkly lie,
Listless in winter blight and winter ooze;
Along the slimy furrows' watery lanes
Dead cotton stalks lift draggled, sodden bolls
To where the trackless prairies stretch and swell,
Where sluggish, muddy prairies sprawl and lie.

Above the graying scene, disconsolate,
The truant sun, returning to his realm
From darkling splendor of retreating cloud,
Finds the dark bosom of the prairie cold,
Cold as a slighted mistress, sought again,
Desirous, but unyielding in her pride.

In splendor now he woos, magnificent,
Binds her with ribbons, gorgeous hued and gay,
Flings purple conquering banners, crimson bound,
And to her couch, on gleaming shafts of gold,
Of amethystine fire, he sinks to rest;
The prairie, conquered, takes him to her breast.

The Way of the World.

BY GROVE PATTERSON.

This is a highly-competitive world. There is constant demand from so many sources on our attention. If our attention is to be caught and our imagination quickened, the appeal must be clear, sharp, frequent.

S. N. Baskin, Chicago retailer, gives merchants good advice. He says:

"The great majority of merchants are losing money by not advertising enough. Occasional advertising is a waste of money. The waste comes in advertising too little, not in advertising too much.

"Figures show that enormous sums of money are literally thrown away each year through inadequate advertising. If one's goods are not placed before the public's attention regularly a scant ad now and then means nothing.

"A merchant will usually make greater proportionate profits by spending six per cent. instead of three per cent. for advertising."

Looked at coldly most progress on the part of individuals or nations comes through the pull of intelligent self-interest. There is a disposition on the part of the United States to keep out of European affairs. But unless we find some way to help Europe financially, unless we find some way to help make European markets what they used to be, we shall have hard work maintaining our own prosperity.

We need trade abroad, and lots of it. We can't get it or keep it unless the nations abroad are healthy. Our self-interest demands that we pay a great deal of attention to the rest of the world.

Don't hoard your money beyond a reasonable saving. Buy goods as freely as you can afford. Speaking of the prosperity of this country, Sir George Paish, British expert on foreign trade, says that unless America buys more goods of Europe, Englishmen and Germans and Frenchmen can't keep going.

One reason for the strength and success of Mussolini, Italian dictator, is the fact that he keeps up-to-date. Little grass grows under the feet of the Italian government. When a new idea appears sound, Italy reaches for it. Wireless telephones are to be introduced on Italian trains. Keeping abreast of the times is one of the secrets of keeping up.

Today's Worst Story.

BY WILL ROGERS

Customs is a lot different in different parts of our country, so maybe I ought to explain to some of the folks in other parts that in New Jersey it's considered all right to be a bootlegger, so long as you don't sell very bad stuff. But one hard-looking guy was brought up before a judge in Jersey City, and the prosecutor said: "This fellow is charged with selling bad hootch." Then they went ahead and both sides jangled around awhile, trying to earn their lawyer's fees. The lawyer for the bootlegger told the judge that this was all perfectly good liquor that the defendant sold, and that the defendant was really a public benefactor and ought to be rewarded. So they put the bootlegger on the stand, and his lawyer got him to show the court a bottle of the excellent stuff, which he pulled out of his pocket.

"Your honor," says the lawyer, "this liquor is the best made. It is genuine pre-war stuff, and yet this prosecutor says it's poison! Can you imagine that?"

"Well," says the judge, "did you ever drink any of it?"

"No," the lawyer admitted, "I don't think I exactly tasted it, but I know it's good because my client says so, and he never told a lie."

"Did you ever drink any of it?" the judge says to the bootlegger. He admitted he had forgotten to taste it himself. So the judge told the bootlegger or his lawyer, whichever one wanted to, to go ahead and drink some. The bootlegger leaned over and says to his lawyer:

"What'll happen if we don't drink it?"

"We'll lose the case flat; that's what. And you'll go to the jug for a year."

"Well," says the bootlegger, "there's two things we can do. You can take a drink, as my attorney, or we can go ahead and lose the case."—Copyright, 1927.

New York Day by Day.

BY O. O. McINTYRE.

New York, Feb. 15 — The Sixty club, for many years a weekly midnight-to-dawn round-up for people of the stage and screen, has apparently expired of inanition. Gate-crashers changed it from a social celebrity gathering into a sort of a commercialized jag.

Uninvited, but tolerated, brash young counter-jumpers on the loose filled the dance floor and black eyes and dangling teeth resulted. It was not unusual for a patrol wagon or ambulance to back up and cart away a casualty or so.

So hilarious did the gatherings grow that several near tragedies resulted—one young lady, after leaving the club, fell down stairs and broke her spine. The actual members, meditating upon these larks, dropped their membership in hot haste.

In its stead arose the Mayfair club which is maintaining the exclusiveness intended for the original organization. Only the members may invite guests and the number is limited. The noticeable dereliction brings an "All tables reserved" dictum from the head waiter.

Stage and screen stars are becoming acutely conscious of the fact unsavory gossip has a decided effect on box-office values. Because they are in the public eye, stories about them are usually exaggerated. A slowly-sipped cocktail may be bloated to an attack of D. T.'s.

Stage and movie producers have proved in the counting-rooms that those with enduring drawing power are those whose reputations have not been besmirched. Scandal often draws a few curious, but that is all. It won't buy limousines, pearls and things.

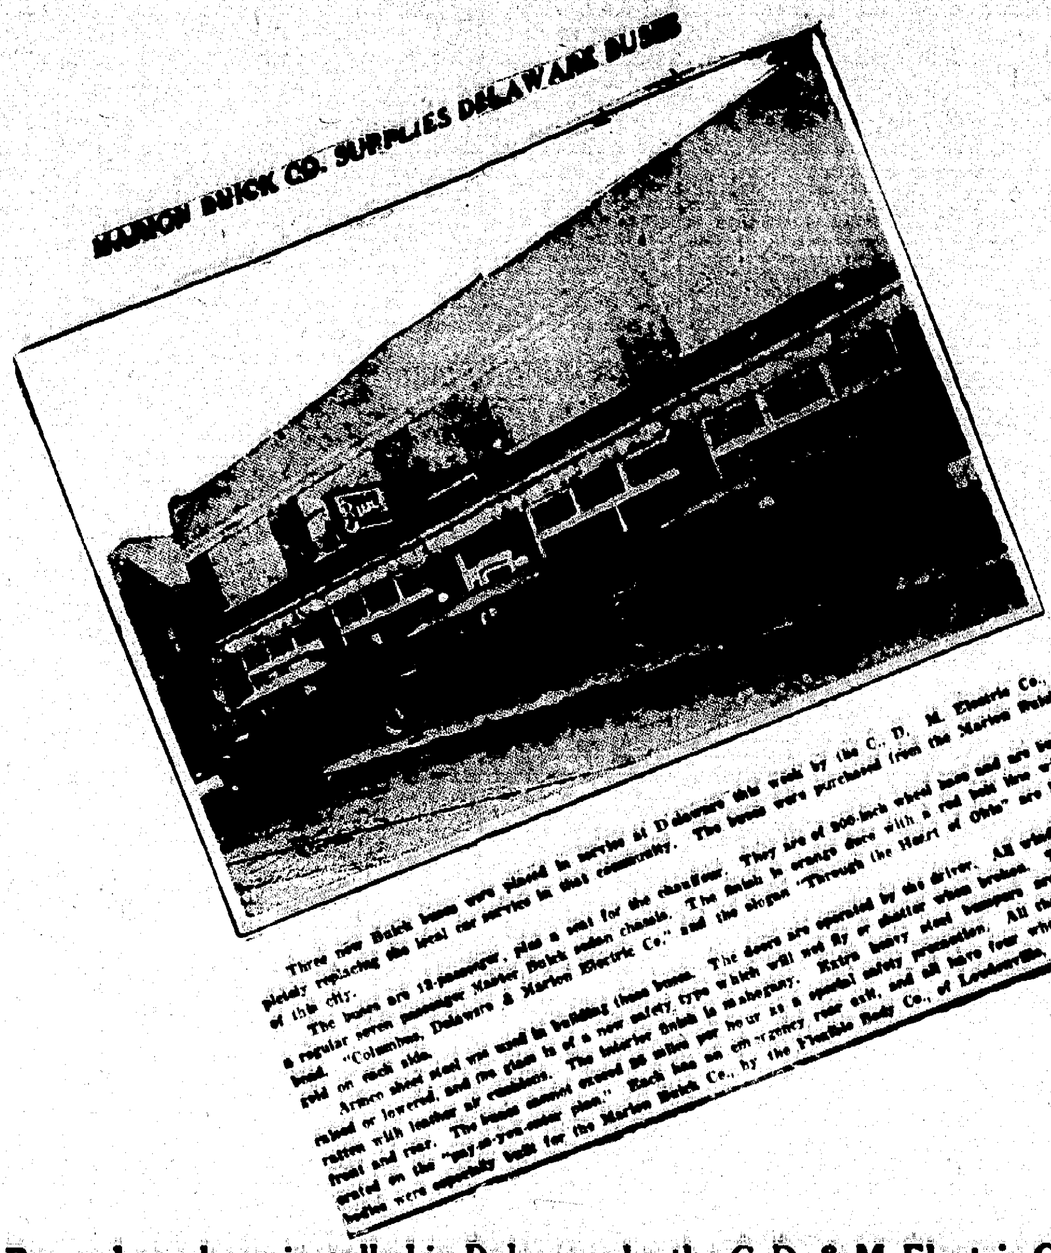
Buick Busses Equal to Severest Service Tests Imposed by C. D. & M. Electric Company



Three new Buick busses were placed in service at Delaware this week by the C. D. M. Electric Co., which plainly replaces the local car service in that community. The busses were purchased from the Marion Buick Co. of this city.

The busses are 12-passenger, plus a seat for the chauffeur. They are of 300-inch wheel base and are built from a regular seven passenger Master Buick sedan chassis. The finish is cream duco with a red belt line with black band. "Columbus, Delaware & Marion Electric Co." and the slogan "Through the Heart of Ohio" are lettered in gold on each side.

Arbern sheet steel was used in building these busses. The doors are operated by the driver. All windows may be raised or lowered, and the glass is of a new safety type which will not fly or shatter when broken. The seats are native with leather air cushions. The interior finish is mahogany. Extra heavy steel bumpers are provided in front and rear. The busses operate on the "pay-as-you-enter plan." Each has an overhead safety apparatus. All three will be operated on the "pay-as-you-enter plan." Each has an overhead safety apparatus. All three will be equipped with a special safety rear axle, and all have four wheel brakes. The bodies were especially built for the Marion Buick Co., by the Trimble Body Co., of Louisville, O.

Three Buick Busses have been installed in Delaware by the C. D. & M. Electric Company after the most exhaustive tests, which have demonstrated that Buicks alone are equal to the service standards which must be maintained. Buicks also offer the economy of operation which entered directly into the proposition.

These busses must give continuous service carrying heavy loads under constant operation day in and day out. The powerful Buick motor is fully equal to this test. The extra strong built frame and torque tube drive eliminates all possibility of break down. The operation economy is highly satisfactory.

The C. D. & M. Electric Company is acknowledged as a conservative organization whose purchases are made only after its technical staff has given a thorough test to the equipment and is satisfied that it is the best possible machinery for the purpose intended.

Since the busses were built up from a regular master six sedan chassis, the purchaser of any Buick Car is assured the same stamina which appeals so strongly to the C. D. & M. Electric Company's Engineering Staff.

In addition to the three Buick Busses which the C. D. & M. Electric Company has now in operation at Delaware, a regular 7 passenger Buick Sedan is in service making regular trips between Richwood and Prospect, thus connecting the former city with the main line.

Sooner or later Buick Busses will be in operation on the streets of all principal cities carrying passengers and replacing street car equipment.

The Marion Buick Company is indeed proud of the fact that it was selected to submit Buick Cars for a test which conclusively demonstrates a superior strength and service which Buick offers.

Sure Way to Get Rid of Dandruff

Girls—if you want plenty of thick, beautiful, glossy, silky hair, do by all means get rid of dandruff, for it will starve your hair and ruin it if you don't.

It doesn't do much good to try to comb or wash it out. The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it; then you destroy it entirely.

To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most, if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and two or three more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop, and your hair will look and feel a hundred times better.

You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. Four ounces is all you will need, no matter how much dandruff you may have. This simple remedy never fails.

CHAPTER FORTY

Why don't you kill me at once and get done with it?" I muttered at last, by which it may be judged how low my spirit had fallen.

"That most foolish and impulsive accusation. Excellent English proverb say 'murder will out.' Always foolish kill a person unless no other way. We not kill you, Mr. Quexter. You join Doctor Kuntz's home permanently. That is better plan. No corpses, no inconvenience of dead bodies, or in strong words of remarkable American poet, no 'undertakers blocking up the passage.' You quite safe in Home."

"But you can't keep me here for ever!" I burst out, the thought of returning to that mad crew being altogether too much for my self-control.

"Not necessary to keep patient very long, Mr. Quexter. You very ill and will perhaps for only very little time. Very dangerous drug fiend; very bad case."

He smiled upon me with an affected expression of sympathetic interest.

"I've never taken a drug in my life," I protested.

"No? Is that so—yess?" he answered. "Then tomorrow you begin very interesting experience. First two or three doses, perhaps unpleasant. After that craving comes quickly and no need to use persuasion."

He paused and looked at me as though waiting for some comment.

"You strong man, Mr. Quexter," he went on. "Last longer than most patients, perhaps eight months, perhaps nine months, possibly even one year. Then you go way of all flesh and we bury you in well-appointed cemetery attached to Nursing Home after Doctor Kuntz has performed autopsy examination in interests of medical research."

He leaned back of his chair, affably smiling. My brain refused to grasp immediately the fate in store for me, and it was only after the lapse of some moments that it dawned on me what I was to suffer. I was to be forcibly drugged till the will-destroying power of cocaine had done its work, when I should crave and whine for my own destruction like the demented creatures with whom I had been confined.

As the full horror of this revealed itself, I gave a hoarse cry, for I had no proper control over my voice, and started forward, forgetting all about the watcher in the press. The Center, however, was watching me closely. I had not left my chair when I heard the door of the press fly open, and a moment later a thin, well greased rope of great strength was slipped over my head, pinioning my arms to my side and cutting short in mid career my spring at his throat.

At that I went quite mad.

"You infernal blackguard," I shouted.

I made desperate efforts to reach him and found myself struggling furiously with two of his white-clad servants. Deprived of the use of my arms, I could, of course, do little, though I landed one of them a kick in the pit of the stomach which laid him gasping on the carpet. The cursed rope, however, seemed almost as though it were alive. It twisted itself round my thighs and ankles, and I was soon trussed up as tightly as a fowl. Presently I stood breathing hard and powerless to move beside two chairs which had been overturned during the struggle.

All this time the Center had remained quietly at his desk, seemingly unconscious of what was passing, and I became aware that he was not alone. Some one stood beside him, and with lift of hope I saw that it was Patience. She was in a blue-green dressing gown, exquisitely embroidered with gold, and held a candle in one hand.

"Patience," I cried desperately, and then again, "Patience."

The Center rose when I called her name. For a moment he was a man transformed. His narrow eyes were half shut, and he hissed something in Japanese between his teeth, his body taut and quivering with a sudden spasm of uncontrollable passion.

Patience looked at him a moment, indulgently reproving.

"Really," she said to him, playfully affectionate, "you don't mean to say that you're jealous of big Robert.

She laid a hand on his shoulder.

He almost spat at her like some wild cat, and then, recovering himself suddenly, he turned to me, again composed and smiling.

"Mr. Quexter," he said politely, "for moment I forget. I think you already met this honorable lady, but not on social footing. Allow me introduce you my wife."

I found myself, after an incoherent interval, back in my old room from which I had made my disastrous exploration of the secret passage a few hours previously. The servants of the Center had placed me on my bed, cut my bonds and withdrawn, locking the door after them. I lay inert for I do not know how long, trying to realize the fate in store for me and to find the courage with which to face that sordid process which was to end in my death in delirium.

The one thing I fancy which kept me still master of myself was the feeling of anger and resentment with which I thought of Patience. I saw now only too clearly as I lay staring into the darkness how she had played me all along. For her I was but one more sensation in a life which fed on sensation. The thought was bitter. Patience was married to the Center; I was filled with rage and humiliation.

Yet I could not help thinking curiously of the situation which so affronted me. How had this strange partnership come about? Was it a union of inclination, or had she merely sold herself for adventure, or for wealth? Was she really fond of that strange man, fascinated by his intriguing personality and his perverted but brilliant mind? Had I, even now, anything to hope from her interest or intervention? Or would she heartlessly accept, or perhaps even assist in my undoing?

Hopelessly at a loss, I dismissed her at last from my thoughts and considered my own position. In the morning presumably Kuntz, under the orders of the Center, would administer the first dose of whatever drug—morphia, heroin or cocaine—to which they had decided I should fall a victim. My only chance of escaping that dose was to find a way out of the room and out of the house before they came.

I rose from the bed and examined the door. It was solid and quite beyond my powers to break it down. The window, as I have already said, opened inwards and was secured on the outside by strong iron bars cemented to the outer wall and quite immovable without a file. I bethought me of the secret passage and pressed the graven mouth of the holdback confining the curtains, with a vague idea of climbing up the chimney to the roof and seeking once more a way of escape by that route. Turn and twist as I would, however, there was no corresponding click, and the wall above my bed remained close shut. Evidently that passage had been barred by order of the Center.

In despair I returned to my bed and after a time fell into an uneasy doze.

I awoke to find the room full of daylight. The voice of birds sounded outside, and the newly begun day looked ineffably sweet and inviting in comparison with my surroundings. Finding water in the jug at the washstand, I washed and made shift to shave not knowing whether I should ever be allowed, or indeed have any inclination for, the decencies of civilization after my "cure" had begun.

In any case, I was determined to make a fight for it, unavailing though it would be. I accordingly sat down not far from the door, ready to assault the first person who opened it, and, if possible to fight my way out of the room. Nor did I have to wait very long before I heard footsteps sounding in the corridor outside. They approached softly but firmly, and clenching my fists, I made ready for the appearance of Doctor Kuntz, or whomever it was the Center had detailed to carry out the process of drugging me. Just outside the door the footsteps ceased and I stood motionless, my eyes fast on the door knob.

It turned slowly, and I braced myself for the blow. Then the door swung back suddenly, and at the last moment I abandoned my assault in mid-delivery.

It was Patience who entered.

CHILD GETS SICK CROSS, FEVERISH IF CONSTIPATED

Look at tongue! Then give fruity laxative for stomach, liver, bowels

"California Fig Syrup" can't harm children and they love it

Mother! Your child isn't naturally cross and peevish. See if tongue is coated; this is a sure sign the little stomach, liver and bowels need a cleansing at once.

When listless, pale, feverish, full of cold, breath bad, throat sore, doesn't eat, sleep or act naturally, has stomach-ache, diarrhoea remember, a gentle liver and bowel cleansing should always be the first treatment given.

Nothing equals "California Fig Syrup" for children's ills; give a teaspoonful, and in a few hours all the foul waste, sour bile and fermenting food which is clogged in the bowels passes out of the system, and you have a well and playful child again. All children love this harmless, delicious, "fruity laxative", and it never fails to effect a good "inside cleansing". Directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups are plainly on the bottle.

Keep it handy in your home. A little given today saves a sick child tomorrow, but get the genuine. Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Fig Syrup", then see that it is made by "The California Fig Syrup Company."

Says West Orange Mother—Tells How MATAMEL Brought Relief.

Mrs. Frank Jowett, well-known resident of 29 Center place, West Orange, New Jersey, is on her feet again and looking better than ever, according to her many friends. In telling of her relief from a certain form of chronic kidney and bladder inflammation, she said:

Quicksands of Love

BY ADELE GARRISON

Lillian Arranges to Hide

I FOUND only Lillian in the living room upon my return to it, after putting Junior to sleep in my room. She answered my unspoken question promptly.

"Katherine and Mary have gone to their rooms to freshen up for luncheon. Mary went first, and I had an opportunity to explain to Katherine that you wished to see the Baker woman in her room. I thought you would'nt mind.

"No, strange to say, I don't," I smiled, and she stopped only for a move at me before she went on.

"Katherine will be back here, and then we can go up and explain your full purpose to Mary. How is your right hand? Steady and firm on the axe handle?"

"Not so steady as I'd like," I answered, "but I think I shall be able to go through with the job."

"I know you will," Lillian said encouragingly, as the door opened and Katherine came in. She closed it behind her, and coming up to us spoke in low tones inaudible beyond the room.

"I've arranged my closet, Lillian," she said, "so that you can stand in it unseen by any one in the room."

"Good girl," Lillian commented. "Where's Mary?"

"Lying down in her own room. I wish she weren't always so tired."

Katherine's tone was worried, and I felt her wish repeated in my heart.

"Then I'll have a chance to slip up there and establish myself in the closet without her knowing it," Lillian said. "Of course, the precaution is probably old woman nonsense, but I no likee that Baker female, and I'd like to be within leaping distance at least while Madge is talking to her."

"You won't hear any loud objections from me," I said as Lillian walked toward the door. "How long will it take you to get settled, so that I can come up to Mary's room?"

"Three minutes, at the longest," Lillian said, but I waited five after her departure before I made my way to Mary's room and knocked lightly at her door. There was no answer at first, and with a qualm at disturbing the exhausted sleep of the girl, I made my summons louder until she finally answered it.

"Oh, I'm so sorry, Auntie Madge," she said, as she opened the door. "I must have fallen asleep. Have you been knocking long?"

"Oh, no," I assured her, then I took the door from her hand and closed it.

"Mary, dear," I said. "I've been thinking over what you told me this morning about Mrs. Baker, and I have decided that the sooner I issue an ultimatum to her about you, the better. There are reasons why I do not wish to go to her room, and, of course, it is too public downstairs in the living room. But Mrs. Bickett will not be in her room for the next half hour, so will you please go to Mrs. Baker and tell her that I'd like to see her in Mrs. Bickett's room for a few minutes. Tell her it is important business. Then come back to your own room, and leave the door between your room and Mrs. Bickett's slightly ajar. You will then be able to hear everything that is said, something which I wish you to do."

With Lillian's speculations in mind, I watched Mary narrowly as I spoke. But I was completely baffled by her demeanor. She displayed just the amount of startled reluctance to summon Mrs. Baker that I should have expected, if her revelation of the morning had originated in her own fears, instead of being prompted by Mrs. Baker, as Lillian had suspected.

"Oh, Auntie Madge," she exclaimed. "Must I go and ask her to come down? I'm afraid she'll suspect something.

TELLS DANGERS OF GALL STONES HEPATIC TORPIDITY

Victims of Gall Bladder Trouble, Inactive Liver and Bowels Should Watch These Danger Signs

Dizziness, headache, shortness of breath, distress after eating, gas in stomach and bowels, pressure or sharp pains in right side that often shoot through to the back, coated tongue, bad breath, lack of ambition, weakness, nervousness and nights of restless misery caused by bad dreams or inability to sleep.

These are symptoms of poisonous waste matter in the system often called auto-intoxication) indicating improper bowel action, hepatic torpidity or gall bladder trouble—and when they come to folks in middle life they should be checked at once, before the dangers of more serious ailments like gall stones and high blood pressure are developed.

In the opinion of the writer, one of the best things in the world, for conditions of this kind is the inexpensive home use of "Klar-Ko" Tablets, which Bradley's Drug Store or any other good druggist supplies on a binding guarantee to refund their cost, if easily noticeable beneficial results are not obtainable inside of a week! Don't wait until your entire system is polluted with poisonous waste or until gall bladder inflammation or gall stones make a dangerous operation necessary, but start the use of "Klar-Ko" Tablets today. If "Klar-Ko" does not help you, the use will not cost you a penny.—Adv.

EXPECT REPORT ON SURVEY OF RAIL CROSSING

Check of Traffic Over Hocking Valley Line on Prospect-pk Ends

Report on a three-day survey to determine the average number of automobiles to cross the Hocking Valley tracks on the Prospect-pk, three miles south of Marion, completed at 10 o'clock last night, is expected to be made by officials of that railroad in a few days.

The survey has been taken in order to decide the issue of whether or not to establish at this crossing an automatic signal light with which to warn motorists of the approach of trains. The automatic signal would flash as the train approached.

No decision in the matter has yet been announced.

The survey began at 6 o'clock Saturday morning. An observer stayed on the scene until 10 o'clock each night, making it a 16-hour survey for each day.

Similar Surveys

Similar surveys are being taken along the Hocking Valley between Marion and Columbus, Supervisor F. A. Sparks of this district of the Hocking Valley said today. It is possible that a signal light of the nature named may be erected at the William-st crossing in Delaware. This warning would function at night during the time that the watchman was not on duty.

At present the Hocking Valley has erected signals at Morral, Prospect and Linworth. At Linworth, the signal was considered even more effective than a crossing watchman and the watchman was dismissed entirely, it is said.

Quartet To Columbus

Widely known in railroad circles, where its services are sought eagerly for all official entertainment affairs, the Red Arrow quartet, composed of employes of the Pennsylvania railroad, goes to Columbus tonight, and will be heard from station WEAO of that city.

The men will sing also at a dinner to be given by the Ohio State University student chapter of the American Society of Civil Engineers.

Coal Shipments

An increase in the amount of coal being carried through Marion has been noted by local railroad officials. More coal is said to have passed through Marion yesterday than at any other time during the last few weeks.

Visits Marion

O. C. Hurlbut, assistant engineer of construction of the Hocking Valley Railroad, was in Marion yesterday. Mr. Hurlbut's offices are in Columbus.

Rail Briefs

John L. Southard, of the engineering department of the Hocking Valley, Columbus, was a visitor in Marion yesterday.

John Zuck, clerk in Supervisor F. A. Spark's office here, was a visitor in Columbus yesterday.

CARDINGTON, MT. GILEAD CAGERS MEET THURSDAY

Expect Match To Be Classic of Year; Date of Game Changed

Mt. Gilead, Feb. 15—The basketball classic of the season will be staged at Levering Hall Thursday night when the Mt. Gilead High school teams meet the Cardington High teams for the third time this season.

The game was originally scheduled for Friday night, but the Fish and Game Association is staging the annual dinner on that night, and since a large number of tickets have been sold and many basketball patrons will attend the banquet, the Cardington school officials have kindly consented to play the game on Thursday night. A large crowd is expected, which should finance the remainder of the athletic season.

More interest is being shown in the boys' game than in any game of the season. Mt. Gilead lost at Cardington early in January by two points in an overtime period. The Purple came back and trounced Cardington 34 to 27 here a short time ago. Then too, what sort of showing the locals can make without the services of Bob White, who was injured last Friday, is a problem. If Mt. Gilead can make a good showing Thursday night, they will have some chance of repeating the championship.

So far, the local girls' team has not hit its stride. At the beginning of the season, the team played well. Admittedly, it is individually the best team in the county. They have lost to Cardington twice this year, but local fans are expecting them to find themselves this week and turn the tables and win by a comfortable margin.

C., D. & M. Quintet Noses Out Commercials, 25-23

Phillians and Minard Cage Winning Points in Last 30 Seconds; Torrence Shines

Railway Service Five Defeats Osgoods 19 to 17 in Thrilling Battle and Fairfield Engineers Take Measure of Marion Business College Outfit, 14 to 13

BY EDDIE SCHOENLEB
Sports Editor, The Star

SINKING two field goals in the last 30 seconds of play, the stellar league leading C., D. & M. basketeers last night nosed out Commercials by a narrow margin of two points and incidentally practically cinched their hold on the Marion Industrial League title. The final score was 25 to 23.

Phillians and Minard turned the trick in the last half minute. With the score standing 23 to 21 against the C., D. & M., Phillians tied the count in a 23-point deadlock with only 30 seconds to play. Ten seconds later, Newt Minard, center on the C., D. & M. crew, dropped in the bucket that meant the Waterloo of the Commercials and every other team in the league which had title aspirations.

Although Minard made the winning points, to Doug Torrence goes much of the credit for the victory. It was Doug that pulled the Electricians out of a hole in the initial minutes of the second half when they were trailing on the end of a 13 to 9 score. Staging a comeback all by himself, Doug caged three field goals and a free throw within three minutes. His counters placed the C., D. & M. quintet in a 16 to 15 lead. The Commercials never were again in the lead until the last five minutes when baskets by Applegate and Geissler gave them a two-point margin. They held this majority until Phillians' historical bucket tied the score near the close of the contest.

Ten Victories

The C., D. & M. cagers now have 10 victories to their credit and have only three more scheduled games. The best any team can do is tie them for first place and this feat is almost impossible and far from probable. The Electricians must meet Marion Business College and Railway Service in the next two rounds and then play another team Feb. 28 when the six highest in the league meet in the final match. Their closest opponents is the Commercial outfit. It has won seven games and lost three.

Penry went hot for the Commercials in the first half last night but failed to make a point in the second stanza. Geissler played a great game at forward but was hampered by the excellent guarding of Miller and Torrence. Minard of the C., D. & M. made 11 of the 25 points scored by his team.

Engineers Win

The fighting Fairfield Engineers grabbed a better foothold on fifth place last night when they defeated the Marion Business College quintet 14 to 13 in a thriller. Fisher's only field goal of the game gave the Engineers their one-point lead in the last four minutes of play.

The half ended in a 7 to 7 deadlock. Early in the second half, the Collegians forged ahead and stayed there until the final spurt of the Fairfield crew spelled defeat for them. Shults, the tall, lumbering center of the Business College, was the shining light for his team but had hard luck in the final minutes when the points were needed badly. Jones played a stellar game at forward for the Fairfield outfit.

As a result of the defeat, the Collegians are now in the cellar of the league with nine defeats and only two wins. Hubers did not play last night and are in sixth place with only eight downfalls and two victories.

Osgoods Lose

Osgoods slipped last night and were nearly overtaken by the Fairfield Engineers when they dropped a heartbreaker to the Railway Service team, 21 to 19.

Staging a great comeback in the final half, the Osgood crew, led by Scoop Irwin, came within two points of taking the game from the sliding Railway Service quintet. The score stood 11 to 3 against them at halftime.

Rinnert was the Service star with four field goals and a free throw. Jonson also played a good game at guard. Scoop Irwin got lucky last night and dropped 'em in from all angles. He made four buckets in the last half to say nothing of a free throw in the first portion of the game.

Here are the lineups and summaries of last night's games:

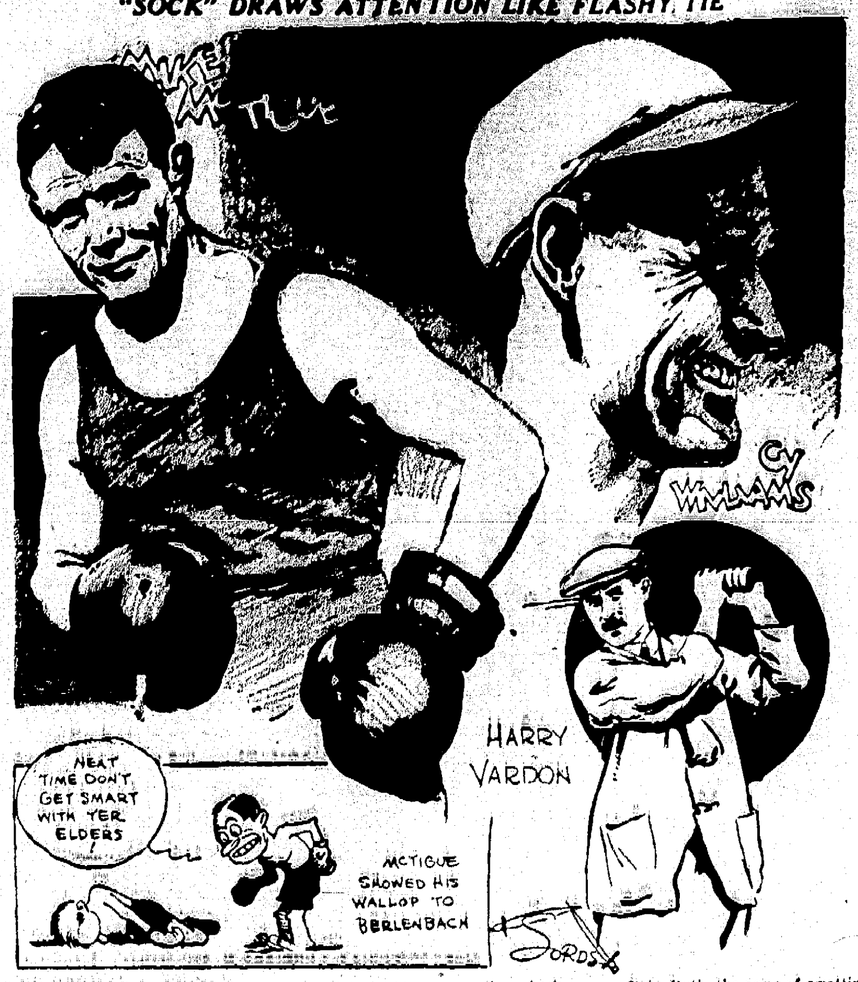
"SOCK" DRAWS ATTENTION LIKE FLASHY TIE



BY NORMAN E. BROWN

Ever since Mike McTigue left his arm chair in the old men's home for the squared arena long enough to put Paul Berlenbach in the proper pose for a night of slumber, the old men of this, that and every other sport, have taken heart. "For, what Mike has done man can do," is their motto.

Those who follow the sport doings religiously, know that Mike, after ranking as the world's worst heavyweight and the champion long distance sprinter of the ring for years, suddenly turned, planted both feet under him instead of ahead of him, and delivered such prodigious blows on the check, chin, chest and chuck wagon of Mr. Berlenbach that that gentleman fell to the floor happy in the delirium that he was the first martyr in a new world war.

This change, after the many long years Mike had been tapping his opponents and then apologizing, was startling, but Mike is by no means the first athlete to find the "wallop" at the tail end of his career.

It took Cy Williams, veteran Philly player, a dozen years to find out that he could hit the ball. He now ranks as one of the sluggers of the game.

Babe Ruth, the acme of swatting, ambled along through the first five years of his big league career unaware of the fact that he could sock home runs.

Harry Vardon, grand old man of the British golf links, at the ripe age of sixty-odd, bought himself a pair of spectacles the other day and found that his driving, sadly lacking of recent years, was due to poor sight, rather than lack of power and co-ordination. His recent appearances have been marked by some prodigious driving exhibitions.

In the business world thousands of men have wandered around until 40 years of age without finding themselves and then have suddenly come upon the "wallop," have found their spheres and applied themselves with the result that a few years of effort have left them well fixed.

If you haven't found the "sock" yet don't despair. It may be just around the corner if it isn't in your right—or left.

First Reforms Step Ahead in Junior Sunday School Race; Beat Presbyterians

Central Christians Idle While Reforms Take Lead in League; Epworth M. E. Cagers Land in Third Place by Virtue of Victory Over Trinity Baptists

First Reforms forged ahead in the Junior Sunday School Basketball League last night when they defeated the First Presbyterians 22 to 19, while Central Christians were idle. Before last night's games, Christians and Reforms were tied for first place with five victories and one defeat each.

Epworth M. E. cagers took a hold on third place in the Junior league last night when they walloped the Baptists 33 to 23 in the second game of the night. Epworths were formerly tied for last place with the Presbyterians and Baptists occupied the position above them. Baptists have now lost five games and won only two while Epworths have won two and suffered defeat on only four occasions. Presbyterians are left alone in the cellar.

Klingle was the outstanding star for the Reforms as they stepped into possession of first place last night. He scored 10 of the 22 points credited his team. Biddle, Merkle and Turner were the best performers for Presbyterians.

Wise, Rice and Artopeous were largely responsible for the defeat of the Baptists last night at the hands of the Epworths. Artopeous made 11 points, Rice was credited with eight, and Wise received 10 counters. Gerue did the best work for the loser, caging nine points.

Gossip and Guesses in the World of Sport

By Pat Murphy

ACCORDING to much of the chatter in the boxing forums, there are quite a number of fight fans who assert that they would not be at all surprised if Jim Maloney beats Jack Delaney at Madison Square Garden on February 18. A few months ago it would be difficult to find any one who would admit that the Bostonian had much of a chance against the light heavyweight champion.

Three bouts at the Garden brought Maloney into prominence. After knocking out Arthur De Kuh in jig time, Maloney defeated Franz Diener and Harry Persson. Then folks began to talk about him. Maloney showed marked improvement in these fights. He has been coming along fast. He used to be a good fighter for a few rounds and then would slow down.

Maloney has acquired pace and, as he showed in the Persson fight, he can rate his action judiciously through a ten-round contest. Maloney has shown that he can hit hard with both fists.

In Delaney, Maloney will meet the hardest hitter he has faced. Delaney is now in better physical condition than he has ever been and his last bout against Bud Gorman showed that his wallop is more dangerous than ever. While Maloney will have plenty of supporters in this coming battle, Delaney will be the favorite.

Delaney is in good shape right now. He is boxing at his training quarters in Bridgeport every day. He probably will enter the ring at about 175 pounds.

Maloney is working for the fight at Long Branch. The Bostonian, for the last few days, has been indulging in secret work-outs. These mysterious private rehearsals have been tried before by other fighters and they do not necessarily mean anything alarming. One thing that Maloney, of course, is working on is a defense of a right to the jaw, which happens to be Delaney's pet weapon.

JIM DUGAN

Jimmy Maloney is Not in Best Condition for Bout

That is Opinion of Walsh As He Witnesses Workout In De Forest's Quarters

aloney Pale, Logy and Lacklustre During Brief Round with Tom Kirby in Training Camp at Long Branch; Jack Delaney To Meet Jimmy Friday Night

BY DAVIS J. WALSH

Long Branch, N. J., Feb. 15—At the sk of becoming confounded with the chinians, a form of human life mewhat higher than a fallen arch, e writer today is constrained to break own and make a clean breast of the lief that a thoroughly conditioned hicle will not be dropped down in at $200,000 spot with Jack Delaney Friday night. I saw a pale, logy, acklustre Jimmy Maloney step rough a brief workout and, for my rt essential part, the business was t highly impressive.

Later, I tried to persuade Jimmy e Forest to pass judgment on the oung man's condition but James was exceptional and evasive. He would y nothing except that Maloney was t under his care but merely using s quarters here as a training grounds. ecisively, De Forest is declared to ve said that Maloney's system of aining didn't meet with his entire pproval.

Of course, a shave and a haircut will sometimes as preparation for a ten ound bout but this one doesn't appear be that kind of a fight. It will be fight with a great one-punch hitter nd, if the latter drops one on his hard, Maloney may need all the recuperative powers that good condi- n insures.

Maloney Listless

The writer had no great interest in Maloney's waistline, which was generous enough, in truth. He is one of hose natural fatmen whose obesity is deceiving. However, one can't go wrong on the state of the eyes and Maloney's are dull and expressionless. Other can the tell-tale whitewashed ook under the eyes be ignored. Maoney didn't lose this aspect even after several rounds of boxing.

It didn't seem, either, that the sweat came readily to the surface, although he went in the ring in a well heated room bundled in cloths to the upper lip. That as a rule is another bad sign. A good conditioner of men usually looks at a fighter's neck for signs of ill-condition. Maloney's looked like what the trainers call "stringy."

Maloney was neither fast nor obviously slow in action although it was quite apparent that he was pulling his punches. A man doing that can't be fast; still there seems to be no way to escape the impression that this particular fighter is far from being on edge.

His lack of fire may be a matter of temperament but almost any well-trained human being, three days before a contest will give more convincing testimony that some kind of life still flutters within.

Fights With Kirby

In a two round workout with Tom Kirby, a light heavyweight of Delaney's proportions, Maloney gave evidence of what he hopes to do on Friday by wrestling and pulling the lighter man off balance at every turn. A little bit of that might prove a great plenty to Delaney if the bout went on to ten rounds.

However, Maloney seemed surprisingly open to a right cross. Kirby scored with three of them and Jimmy didn't see them until they finished. If he does that with Delaney, they can count him out with an hour glass.

Meantime, Dan Morgan, now connected with the camp, stood about and exuded optimism. His story is that Maloney is too fast, too strong, too rugged and too everything for a man like Delaney.

Maloney was a great bet in my mind—last week. Unfortunately, they intend to fight this week. In my unimportant opinion, he is no better than a reasonably good bet now.

BRADLEY DRUGS WIN; DUGANS BEAT MUTUALS

Richmans Take One Game from Bradleys When Shrock Rolls 254

Bradley Drugs won two games last night while Midland Mutuals dropped two to Jim Dugans in the National League bowling matches on the Y. M. C. A. alleys. Bradleys defeated Richmans.

The Drugs won the first two tilts with Richmans but dropped the last when Shrock's high score of 254 for the latter team aided materially in bringing the total for Richmans to 935 pins. A. Baldauf and Warrick tied for honors in a single game last night when each rolled 192 in the final fray.

Dugans won the first contest from the Mutuals, dropped the second, and came back for victory in the third. Axtheim rolled 196 for the high count on Dugans' team. Thomas led the Mutuals with 220 pins in the first game.

ANOTHER JOLLIFF ON WOOSTER CAGE TEAM THIS YEAR

"ROLLY" JOLLIFF

Seventeen years ago the name Jolliff meant basketball at Wooster. That was when Jay, Carp, Bill, Joe, and Cliff formed a basketball team, a good team too, for in 1910 this team won the independent championship of the state.

Now the second generation of Jolliffs are in the basketball limelight at Wooster. Rolly Jolliff, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jay Jolliff, now plays regularly for the Wooster College basketball team.

The fans hope that Rolly will prove to be a "chip off the old block."

WILLIE HOPPE TO MEET SCHAEFER

New York, Feb. 15 — Willie Hoppe and Jake Schaefer today will begin a 3,000-point match for the world's championship at 18.1 balk line billiards, the issue to be decided in ten blocks of 300 points each. There will be no defending champion in the match because billiard authorities refused to recognize Schaefer's former victory over Hoppe who had held the title without competition for years.

CHASE AT LIVERPOOL

The Grand National Steeplechase, which this year takes place on March 25, is always run at Liverpool. The course is four and one-half miles long. There are thirty fences—most of which have to be jumped twice. One of the jumps is a six-foot ditch, with a five-foot high fence in front to be cleared first. Another tough proposition is a brook, seven feet across with a five-foot fence in front of it. The real test, however, is the famous "Water Jump," about 16 feet over all.

Hockeying has been enjoying a record season in New York this winter. Not the least of the contributing factors to the boom in sport has been the pace set by the New York Rangers in coasting along at the top of the American division of the National Hockey League.

A one-mile intercollegiate relay race will be the outstanding event on the program for the annual indoor athletic meet of the Osceola Club to be held in New York City on February 5. Some of the foremost athletes of the metropolitan district have entered for the meet.

FIVE PLAYERS MANAGERS

Of the sixteen men who will pilot major league baseball clubs next season only five will be player managers. They are Ray Schalk of the Chicago White Sox and Stanley Harris of the Washington Senators, in the American League, and Bob O'Farrell of the St. Louis Cardinals, Dave Bancroft of the Boston Braves and Stuffy McInnis of the Phillies, in the National League.

VACCA DEFEATS FIDEL LA BARBA IN TEN ROUNDS

Gets Nothing for Match But Offers To Fight Anyway

Boston, Feb. 15 — Little Johnny Vacca, unknown Boston bantamweight, who four times floored Fidel La Barba, of Los Angeles, flyweight champion of the world, and won seven out of ten rounds, received nothing but cheers for his victory, it was learned today.

Because of the snow storm last evening, the Commercial A. C., sponsor of the bout, started to call it off. Vacca, rather than miss the opportunity to meet La Barba, offered to battle for nothing.

The champion from the Pacific Coast was on the canvas three times in the second round and once in the fourth.

Three times La Barba took the count of nine, while the other time he was up at the count of five.

It was Vacca's first appearance in a main bout and he entered the ring on the short end of ten to three betting.

The first round was even and then Vacca began nailing La Barba on the jaw.

La Barba stood up like a champion under punishment. He spurted in the closing rounds. La Barba carried the seventh and eighth rounds and held Vacca even in the ninth.

JIMMY DELANEY WINS OVER MAXIE ROSENBLOOM

Largest Crowd in Years Witness Battle at Cincinnati

Cincinnati, Feb. 15—Before the largest fight crowd that has turned out here in several years, Jimmy Delaney, St. Paul middleweight, boxed his way through ten rounds to a newspaper decision over Maxie Rosenbloom, of New York, last night.

Delaney threw caution to the winds after the New York boy had shaded him in the first four rounds, and proceeded to hand Maxie a right uppercut that put him on his back in the fifth round—Delaney failed to call his shot, or someting, and the Easterner was soon back on his feet.

The boys mixed it freely after that, with Delaney being the more frequent scorer.

In a preliminary bout Fred Ullman, of New York, bowed to Alex Simms, of Toledo, via the technical knockout route.

Chick Harley's Cage Crew Coming Here for Battle; Shovels Warriors Prepared

Ben Dempsey, Harley Pearce, Red Money and Other Noted Athletes To Appear on Shovel Gym Tonight; Robert-Lees Are Leading Capital City League

"Chick" Harley, Ben Dempsey, Harley Pearce, Red Money and others. That's the lineup that will face the Marion Steam Shovel basketball team on the Shovel court tonight. The Robert-Lees of Columbus is the name of the visiting crew.

The Robert-Lees are leading the Capital City League and with another victory will clinch the title in Columbus. They have won eight outside games with some of the best professional teams in the state. One of the greatest victories was scored the first of the season when the knocked off the Capital University crew, 44 to 22.

Harley is well-known to local fans while Harley Pearce is almost as popular. Pearce was an all-round athlete at Ohio Wesleyan a year ago and has the reputation of being one of the grates athletes ever to don a suit for that school. Ben Dempsey was with Ohio State last year and Red Money is the flash from Ohio Northern. They're all good.

The Shovel team will be composed of its usual players. It has put in a practice session since the last game with the Dairies here and is prepared for the battle tonight. The visitors are ranked as one of the most dangerous foes yet to appear in the Shovel gym.

The Steam Shovels have lost only two games on the home floor this season and are determined to keep the defeats at that low mark. A victory tonight over the famous Robert-Lees will not only keep that slate clean but will also add to the fame of the local quintet, which is fast being recognized as one of the leaders in Central Ohio cage circles.

The new bleachers have enabled the local management to accommodate more spectators. The Shovel band will offer its regular concert before the game and between halves. A preliminary is scheduled for 7 o'clock and the main go will start at 8:15 o'clock.

I'm telling you straight—
is the works

PUT it down now for a double-riveted, copper-cornered fact: Prince Albert will give you more pleasure to the cubic inch than any other tobacco you ever packed in a pipe. Maybe I'm prejudiced. Even so, my statement holds. I'll leave it to you, after your first P. A. pipe-load.

Buy a tidy red tin of P. A. and follow these simple directions: Tuck about a thimbleful into the bowl of your favorite pipe. Light up, and pull that cool, cooling smoke up the stem. Exhale slowly and get the full benefit of that wonderful Prince Albert taste.

Cool as a claim-adjuster. Sweet as an unexpected inheritance. Fragrant as pine-boughs, swaying in a summer breeze. Mild, but not willy-nilly, if you get me. And of course you do! Make the test today and check-in with what I've been telling you.

You'll probably say I wasn't enthusiastic enough! Anyhow, get some Prince Albert now and get on the sunny side of pipe-pleasure. No matter what your previous experience with a pipe has been; no matter how set you appear to be, try Prince Albert. It will be a revelation!

GREAT COURT PROGRAM AT KENTON THIS WEEK

"Terrible Swedes," Ada High, Charleston, W. Va., Booked for Armory

Kenton, Feb. 15—With a successful basketball season gradually drawing to a close here, Kenton's court fans this week will be treated to some of the best basketball of the season with three of the city's leading clubs booked against strong opposition.

Olson's "Terrible Swedes," with many victories dangling from their belts, are to meet the Kenton Reds Wednesday night at the armory. The Columbus Kinnears comprise the Red line-up.

Friday night the Kenton high school meets Ada, traditional rivals, in the second game this season. In the first tilt in the college town, the locals won by a small margin. Hundreds of fans from Ada as well as Hardin County will jam the armory for this classic.

Probably the deciding game as to whether or not the New York Central Athletic association club here will play in the division association tourney in Charleston, West Va., is to be played here Saturday night when the local shopmen oppose the Toledo N. Y. C.'s. Earlier in the season Kenton beat the up-staters on their own floor.

PONZI FACES PRISON

Seven-to-Nine-Year Sentence Will Be Affirmed in Boston

Boston, Feb. 15—Charles Ponzi, one-time juggler of millions, today, penniless, faced a sentence of from seven to nine years in state's prison.

Gone was the bravado of the ex-soda jerker and international coupon wizard as he arrived back from Houston, Texas, to have his sentence reaffirmed.

The return of Ponzi marks the close of one of the most difficult six month's legal battles in the history of the state.

Two police inspectors guarded Ponzi in a locked car passing across Texas bearing service of a writ. Reaching St. Louis the car door was unlocked.

SENATE READY TO USE GAG RULE ON MEASURE

Second Time in Decades That Cloture Is Authorized; Limits Debate

Washington, Feb. 15—For the second time in decades, the senate prepared today to authorize cloture in order to force a final vote on the McFadden-Pepper banking act.

The "gag rule," restricting debate to one hour for each senator, was invoked by administration leaders because insurgents announced a war to the finish against the bill, which extends the powers and activities of national banks and the federal reserve system.

Insurgents leaders declared they welcomed the use of cloture, and charged that the bill could not be enacted except under the "gag rule." The use of cloture, it was understood, was suggested by Vice President Dawes, who has waged a campaign for revision of the senate's rules—to limit debate—ever since he took office.

Senator Wheeler, Democrat, of Montana, charged today only a few senators understood the contents of the bill. The provisions he attacked the most would give the federal reserve system an "indeterminate charter" as a substitute for the present one, which expires after 1934.

It was definitely announced from Hankow that the negotiations between Eugene Chen, Cantonese foreign minister, and Owen O'Malley, British charge, have been broken off.

This announcement caused considerable satisfaction among the British and other foreigners here who believe the rupture will lead to military action on the part of Britain and the regaining of the Hankow concession.

It was stated that General Sun Chuan-Fang with Eugene Chen in refusing to consider Secretary of State Kellogg's plan to have Shanghai declared neutral territory.

Jubilee's Pardner

A Story of Boyhood Adventures

BY JUDD MORTIMER LEWIS

It was cold again, or yet, when I left mine down this morning by the rope his teeth, and I had to be careful the rope didn't hurt my sore fin- and then I had to be careful again I put on my pants and everything went down and fixed the fires. It like there was a little heart in it, I could feel it beating. It is not milk a cow with a sore finger. I mean the cow has a sore finger, cows do not have fingers. By golly, a cow had fingers she could milk her- and I could stay in bed till it was time. When it came time in morning for her to be milked, she come in the kitchen and get the go out in the barn and set on stool and milk herself and in, and that would save me a of trouble.

I was setting trying to send a squirt into Jubilee's face which he was open to catch it, when Whitey and he asted me what was the with my finger. Then Peanuts Goop and Nibs and Banty and all came, and as fast as they they asted me what was the mat- of my finger, and then the Lost Bag of Tripe came, and he saw my finger wrapped up, and he looked innocent did not ast me anything, and then and Feeble came, and Youniss said "Oh, Thomas Aristides, how did lost your finger?" And I said:

The Lost Bag of Tripe put a pin in doorstep and I caught my finger on and he stood by the feed bin watch- me as I got up and went teardst him and he said, "I never!" And just Nibs paisted him and knocked him the bin and said, "You did too, you dirty crook," and he went home crying. And my ant met him in the yard and asted him if I done it, and she was disappointed when he said no. That is another time she didn't get me licked.

I found six bits in my overcoat pocket on the way to school, and I couldn't think how it got there. The lunch wanted me to spend it for suckers, but I would not do it. I said it might not be mine, and Youniss said I was right. At recess she come up to me when I was alone and asted me if I didn't like Chawkluts better than suckers, and said so did she, but I told her it wasn't mine, an she said she would walk home with me when school let out, so if I changed my mind. I didn't. My mother wanted to change the rag on my finger, but it was stuck and I hollered, so she made me go to bed.

Daily Bedtime Story

BY HOWARD GARIS

Uncle Wiggily and His Friends

Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy, the musk-rat lady who helped Uncle Wiggily and his wife keep the hollow stump bung-alow looking neat and tidy—Nurse Jane paused in front of a large parlor vase which she was dusting with a brush tied on the end of her tail.

"It would look more stylish if it had something in it," squeaked Nurse Jane more to herself than to any one else.

But Uncle Wiggily happened to be taking a nap in the parlor before set-ting out on his adventure hop, so he heard what Miss Fuzzy Wuzzy said.

"What do you please to mean by saying it would look more stylish if it had something in?" asked Mr. Long-ears.

"Oh, I didn't know you were there," exclaimed the muskrat lady. "But I was speaking of this vase. If it had some tall, brown artistic cattail plants in, or a bunch of red mountain ash berries, or even some fluffy grass it would be very pretty."

"I think so myself," admitted Uncle Wiggily. "The empty vase looks rather bare and harsh. I am going out adven-turing. Down on the meadows where the Flat Tail family of beavers live, grow cattails and fluffy grasses, the plumes of which have not fallen off as the leaves fall from trees. I'll get you a bunch of something for that empty vase, Nurse Jane."

"I wish you would," squeaked the muskrat lady, as she went on with her dusting. And Uncle Wiggily, when he had twinkled his pink nose once or twice, hopped out over the snow, through the woods and across the fields to the meadow lands which were a sort of swamp in summer. But in the win-ter they were frozen solid.

Growing amid the reeds and rushes of the meadow were many tall stems, on the ends of which were fuzzy plumes that waved in the cold wind. Uncle Wiggily looked for some cattails, but those brown things had dried up and had blown away in fluffy bunches of seed, for that is what cattails are.

"But I'll get some of this tickle grass for Nurse Jane," said the rabbit gentle-man with a smile. He called the tall, waving plumes "tickle grass," because they looked just like the little feather dusters that jolly chaps use on Hal-lowe'en to tickle the faces of the maskers.

Uncle Wiggily gathered a bunch of the tickle grass, taking care to keep the fuzzy plumes well away from his own pink nose. He did not want to sneeze, on account of it being a cold day.

"For if my wife hears me sneezing," said Mr. Longears to Toodle Flat Tail, the Beaver Boy, who came out of his house to watch the rabbit gentleman gather tickle grass, "if my wife hears me sneezing she will think I am catch-ing cold and she will make me take some hot ice cream and go to bed. And that will be no fun!"

"Of course it wouldn't!" agreed Toodle, helping the rabbit gentleman to gather another bunch of tickle grass for Nurse Jane's empty vase.

At last enough was had to make a fine showing in the parlor, and Uncle Wiggily started to hop home across the frozen swamp meadow. But the rab-bit gentleman had not gone far before he found out that some one was chas-ing him. He looked back and saw the reeds and rushes waving and bending this way and that.

"Can it be that Toodle is chasing after me to give me more tickle grass?" thought the bunny. "I hardly need it—I have enough. But it would not be polite to run away from him!"

Uncle Wiggily waited. Nearer and nearer came the bending of the reeds and rushes, and then, all of a sudden, out popped—not the beaver boy, but the black, Bushy Bear. He it was who had chased the bunny.

"Burr! Burr-r-r-r-r," growled the Bear. "It's cold, but your ears are nice and warm, Uncle Wiggily!" and he looked hungrily at them.

"You can't have my ears!" said the bunny, and he held the bunch of feathery plumes in front of his face. The Bear leaped at the rabbit, but the fluffy grass touched the Bear's nose, tickling him so that he sneezed.

"Burr! Burr-r-r-r!" growled the Bear.

"Ker choo! Ker chow! Ker chi!" sneezed the Bear, and then he howled "Oh, I am catching cold. I always catch cold when I sneeze! I must run home and take some quinine! But I'll come back and get your ears! Wait!"

But did Uncle Wiggily wait? Indeed he didn't! Home to his bungalow he hopped as fast as he could go. Nurse Jane took the bunch of feathery plumes.

"Oh, what lovely Sporobolus Cynosu-rus!" she squeaked, giving the plant its Latin name.

"I call it Tickle Grass!" said Uncle Wiggily with a laugh. "You should have seen it tickle the Bear!" Nurse Jane said she wished she had. But anyhow if the rocking horse will put roller skates on the cat's cradle so she can ride to the moving pictures, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and the red tree.

Pony coats are being trimmed with floral motifs. An otherwise plain pony coat was distinguished by two large rose decorations formed by slashing the fur to show red duvetyne beneath.

Today in Marion Markets

Groceries, Produce, Meats, Grain, Livestock

Fresh green peas, in the pods, were being sold this morning at 35 cents a pound. The peas are scarce and very few are on the market.

Another new product available today is sassafras, small bunches of which were brought into local stores today and are being sold at five cents a bunch.

The general run of fresh vegetables and fruits was to be had today, with both supply and demand light. Buying was light and stocks were kept low. Larger supplies of green mangoes than have been seen thus far were on the market today. They were selling for two for 15 cents. Endive was also plentiful, with the price 25 cents a pound. Most of the other vegetables were light in supply.

Meats are the same in price, with the exception of bacon, which is being offered in some markets at prices slightly lower than it has been. Fancy, Sliced bacon is still bringing 35 cents or more a pound. Other pork products are the same in price.

New York, Feb. 15—Profit-taking and an advance in call money rates to 4½ per cent, were the principal handicaps to the continuance of the broad upward swing in stock prices today. The tone of the market was firm and confident, however, and new advances were scored in a number of the specialty and industrial groups, the latter including the independent oil stocks.

Speculative interest in the railroad stocks was keen, as Western Maryland, Wabash and New Haven were whirled through their paces by the pools and professionals. Wabash established a new high for the year at 11½ in heavy trading, to the accompaniment of rumors that the common stock would carry a 4 per cent dividend in the near future. New interests in the purchase of New Haven stock were supposed to have been discovered in Canadian Pacific railroad owners, who are anxious to make traffic agreements of one kind or another with the road.

MELLON'S MOVE MAY SERVE TO REVIVE FEUD

Bloc Leaders Flare Back at Slap to McNary-Haugen Measure

Washington, Feb. 15—A revival of the feud between a goodly portion of President Coolidge's cabinet and farm relief advocates was threatened today as farm bloc leaders flared back at Secretary of the Treasury Mellon's slap at the pending McNary-Haugen Farm bill.

Although Mellon avoided taking a positive stand on the bill in his letter to Rep. Chindblom, Republican, of Illinois, estimating the administrative cost of the farm board machinery set up by the bill, his intimations that it is unworkable aroused keen resentment in the farm bloc.

Silence Broken

Mellon's statement broke the wall of silence that has enveloped the administration since the present farm relief fight got under way. Cabinet members, it is reported, have been under orders from Mr. Coolidge to keep "hands off," in direct contrast to the last session, when at least three cabinet officers openly fought the McNary-Haugen plan.

Secretary of Agriculture Jardine, who has taken no part in the fight, is quoted by a leading farm bloc member as saying that the administration had decided to leave the whole question to congress and Mr. Coolidge to either sign or veto any bill that is passed.

Backers of the pending measure, driving steadily toward its enactment, took direct issue with Mellon's statement that collection of the equalization fee that is to finance the surplus control plan, would be difficult and costly. They also denied his statement that the federal treasury would not get back every cent of the $250,000,000 revolving fund because no government could collect sums in full.

Here is a surgeon's wonderful prescription now dispensed by pharmacists at trifling cost, that will do more towards helping you get rid of unsightly spots and skin diseases than anything you've ever used.

Not only does this great healing antiseptic oil promote rapid and healthy healing in open sores and wounds, but boils, abscesses and ulcers that are discharging are almost immediately relieved and cleanly healed.

In skin diseases its action is little less than magical. The itching of eczema is instantly stopped; the eruptions dry up and scale off in a very few days. The same is true of barber's itch, salt rheum and other irritating and unsightly skin troubles.

You can obtain Moone's Emerald Oil in the original bottle at any modern drug store. It is safe to use, and failure in any of the ailments noted above is next to impossible. Heaney & Cooper, Bradley's Drug Store can supply you at any time.—Adv.

Recommends Underground Fire Alarm Wire, New Pump

CITY COUNCIL GETS REPORT OF FIRE CHIEF

McFarland Says Matchine at No. 2 Engine House Past Repair

Placing of all wiring of the local fire alarm system underground and purchase of a new pumping machine for No. 2 engine house to replace the present machine, which has been in service since April, 1912, were two important recommendations made by Fire Chief T. J. McFarland in his annual report to the City Council, last night.

The report, giving a detailed and comprehensive summary of the work of the fire department last year, as well as an inventory of the department's property and other important data, showed that although the firemen answered 243 calls last year, the total fire loss in the city was held to $73,871.89. In addition to these calls, all received from the city, the department made 27 special runs outide the corporation limits, making a total of 270 for the year.

Answers Inquiry

In answer to an inquiry regarding the fire alarm system today, Chief McFarland stated that approximately 17,000 feet of the wiring is already underground, leaving 15,000 feet overhead. The 17,000 feet underground wiring is laid almost entirely in the uptown district in trenches dug for telephone cables.

When the telephone company started to place its wires underground, an effort was made to have the fire alarm wiring changed at the same time. This was possible in the up-town district but has not been accomplished in residence territory.

Fire alarm wires formerly strung on the telephone company poles are being transferred to electric light poles. This creates a very dangerous situation, according to the fire chief, who informed council in his report that one accident might cost the city more than the entire expense of completing the underground construction would amount to.

Refers Requests

Following reading of the report, Council President Murphy referred the chief's recommendations to the fire department committee, composed of Charles Schmidt, J. E. Wilkins and T. J. Mead. It is expected that steps will be taken to purchase the new pumper for No. 2 engine house and also to complete the underground fire alarm wiring.

In connection with his reference to the need of a new pumper, the chief stated, "Our mechanic reports the pumper in past repair and how much longer it will run I can not say. It is a serious matter and should have attention. It should be replaced with a 1,000-gallon pumper at once."

The report also recommended the purchase of a city service ladder in order that the aerial ladder now in use may be used only in the business and manufacturing districts.

Efficiency Evidence

Evidence of efficiency in the local fire department is found in a feature of the report which shows that the total value of buildings and contents figuring in last year's fire calls was $1,240,724.69 and the loss was only $73,871.89.

Total insurance on this more than one million dollars worth of property was $847,613.50.

The largest number of calls during 1926 resulted from fires starting from chimneys, the report shows. Fifty-three roofs were ignited by sparks from chimneys and firemen were called out to 22 homes where soot caught fire in chimneys but the buildings were not damaged.

Chimney Fires

The property damage from chimney fires was placed at $6,034.79.

Included in the year's fires were 13 business buildings with a total loss of $44,780.37. The largest part of this loss resulted from two fires, one amounting to $39,500.43 and the other $3,070.25.

There were three factory fires with a total loss of $11,390.47.

Twenty-eight automobiles caught fire during the year, necessitating calls for firemen.

Five Year Loss

Fire losses of the last five years, as listed in the report, were as follows: 1922, $26,862.13; 1923, $58,227.23; 1924, $78,835.75; 1925, $254,502.35; 1926, $73,871.89.

Property of the local fire department, including buildings and equipment, is valued at $92,217.32, according to the chief's inventory. This is divided as follows: fire alarm system, $17,029.62; engine house No. 1, $52,373.50; No. 2, $8,069.20; No. 3, $15,155.

WASTE PAPER RECEIVERS MAY BE PLACED HERE

Federated Women's Clubs Ask Council To Install Receptacles Uptown

Probability that waste paper receptacles will be installed in Marion's uptown district was indicated last night at City Council meeting following a request received from the Federated Women's Clubs.

Mrs. J. W. Hungate and Mrs. Mayme Herr Frank, appearing before council as representatives of the club women, expressed the opinion that use of receptacles would assist materially in keeping the streets and sidewalks clear of paper and rubbish.

They informed council that the annual convention of the Ohio Federation of Women's Clubs, to be attended by 1,000 or more delegates, will be held here in May and that the local club women are especially desirous of establishing cleanliness in the up-town district before that time.

Receptacles Junked

A number of years ago, the two club women stated, similar receptacles were installed and for a time were put to good use. Finally, however, complaints were received about garbage being placed in the boxes and when it was found difficult to eliminate this trouble, the plan was abandoned. The receptacles were finally junked and thrown away, it is claimed.

Mrs. Hungate and Mrs. Frank were of the opinion that with the city now provided with an official garbage collection department to have charge of the receptacles there would not be a recurrence of the former trouble.

Emery E. Murphy, president of council, informed the two club women that the proposal would be investigated and a report made prior to the next council meeting.

Miss Lucia R. Briggs, president of Milwaukee-Downer College, who has been honored with the presidency of the American Association of Colleges, is the daughter of LeBaron Russell Briggs, dean emeritus of Harvard College.

Former students of Miami University at Oxford will gather tonight at the home of George Oborn, 452 E. There will be selections by the men's chorus, by a quartet and by the University orchestra. This program will begin at 8:45.

Between 20 and 25 Marion residents, former students of Miami, are expected to meet here tonight, according to E. G. Siefert, who has been appointed chairman of the meeting in Marion. ANOTHER VENIRE

Only Five Prospective Jurors Are Tentatively Selected

Washington C. H., Feb. 15—With 60 names of the first venire of 75 already disposed of and but five prospective jurors tentatively chosen to hear first degree murder charges against Leo Halterman for the killing of his half-brother, Charles, and the latter's wife, Common Pleas Judge Reid today ordered a second venire of 40, all men.

Objections raised by defense attorneys because of the arbitrary selection of these latter names was overruled.

Halterman confessed to both murders but pleaded self-defense in the killing of his half brother. Temporary insanity is expected to be the main staff of defense attorneys.

CITY COUNCIL AMENDS LOCAL PEDDLER LAW

Under New Plan Mayor Is Given Full Authority To Act on Grants

Marion's peddlers' license ordinance was amended by City Council last night with the adoption of an ordinance introduced at the request of Mayor Earl M. Hazen.

Under the amendment, the mayor will have the privilege of issuing peddlers' permits without charge to vendors whose wares are of small value and whose earnings are not sufficient to justify payment of a fee.

The original ordinance stipulated that the license fee should be not less than $1 a day nor more than $50. The amendment provides that the fee shall not exceed $50, leaving it optional with the mayor whether any charge at all is made.

The $1 fee, the mayor states, made it impossible for some vendors of small merchandise to do business.

The amendment came before council two weeks ago and was voted down at that time because the proposal had not been properly explained.

Mayor Hazen's report for January was received by Council, showing that he collected $38.25 in fees from the sale of building permits during the month. This is the first report received since the mayor was relieved of his duties as police judge by operation of the Municipal Court. His monthly collections, including fines and costs, formerly totaled on an average of $1,000.

A resolution authorizing continuing Captain H. D. Uline on the city's payroll at half his regular salary was adopted by Council. Captain Uline has been off duty because of illness and is retained on the payroll in recognition of his many years of service. The resolution adopted last night authorizes payment to Captain Uline for six months beginning March 1. A similar resolution adopted last year made a similar provision for the preceding six months.

BILLIARD CHAMPIONSHIP TO BE DECIDED TONIGHT

Reiselt and Kieckhefer Will Battle for Title in Finals

Chicago, Feb. 15 — The three-cushion billiard championship of the United States will be decided here tonight in a 50-point match between defending champion Otto Reiselt of Philadelphia and August Kieckhefer of Chicago.

Reiselt and Kieckhefer won their way to the finals in the national tournament by winning last night over Earl Thurnblad and Gus Copulos respectively. Reiselt defeated Thurnblad, 50 to 36, and Kieckhefer beat Copulos, 50 to 22.

The latter match was the sensation of the tournament. Kieckhefer ran out in 32 innings, setting a record for the meet and bettering his own former best game of 35 innings.

In the other two matches, Tiff Denton of Kansas City, defeated Raimundo Campanioni, 50 to 32, and then lost to Earl Lookabaugh of Chicago, 50 to 48.
